WHICH NAVY HAS BEST LINE?

A gal has a choice these days, with thousands of sailors from several nations in town for the royal naval review Tuesday next. Here Kathie Judd, HMCS Dockyard secretary, has a tough bit of arbitration.

U.S.-Canada Cabinet Committee

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and the United States today agreed to establish a joint cabinet committee on continental defence to strengthen the military effort of the two countries.

Agreement was reached between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker held their last formal get-together this morning before the president ends his three-day visit Friday. They were expected to meet privately tonight, however, at a dinner at the U.S. Embassy residence.

The president headed for the golf course this afternoon. He had perfect weather for his game at the Ottawa Hunt Club with Transport Minister George Hees, Senate Speaker Marc Drouin, and club president John A. Cross.

IKE GOLFS TO RELAX, RETURNS HOME FRIDAY

OTTAWA—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker held their last formal get-together this morning before the president ends his three-day visit Friday. They were expected to meet privately tonight, however, at a dinner at the U.S. Embassy residence.

Red China Trade Go-Ahead Hinted

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated today the United States has agreed to allow Canadian subsidiaries of American firms to do business with Communist China in non-strategic goods.

In a sharp exchange with Opposition Leader Pearson, Mr. Diefenbaker said in the Commons he will make a full statement Friday on his talks with President Eisenhower.

This statement will show, he said, that there will be no interference with Canadian subsidiaries insofar as entering contracts with other countries on goods not considered strategic.

Mr. Pearson requested clarification of the agreement between Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Eisenhower that the two governments would consult on differences in Canadian-American export policy and find appropriate measures for reaching satisfactory solutions.

ASKS RELATION
Mr. Pearson wanted to know how this statement was related to one reported to have been issued by Finance Minister Fleming.

Fleming that the intent of the agreement is that only Canadian law will apply on persons and corporations doing business in Canada.

Mr. Fleming said he didn't issue any statement. Mr. Pearson then read a statement by James Nelson, Mr. Diefenbaker's press secretary, quoting Mr. Fleming.

PEARSON, PM BATTLE IN HOUSE OVER TALKS

OTTAWA (CP)—An angry dispute flared in the Commons today between Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Opposition Leader Pearson as the prime minister was being questioned about current trade talks here with President Eisenhower.

Mr. Diefenbaker, replying to a question by the Liberal leader, observed that he had made no suggestion to the president—as he said, Mr. Pearson had once suggested—that unless trade relations with the U.S. were beneficial Canada should threaten to withdraw or diminish defence co-operation.

Mr. Pearson, obviously angered immediately denied he had made any such statement and demanded that the prime minister either withdraw or substantiate it.

'Mighty Mouse' Rocket Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Hopes of recovering a vital nose cone and its mouse passenger alive after an inter-continental ballistic missile flight through space appeared to be waning today.

There still was a chance, however, that the launching vehicle became the first U.S. ballistic weapon to travel 6,000 miles or more.

Some 15 hours after the powerful Thor-Able rocket blasted away on a spectacular launching, there was no report on the progress of the nose cone recovery operation.

A spokesman close to the project said "it doesn't look too good now."

He said ships were searching for the highly-secret nose cone somewhere in waters off Ascension Island, 1,000 miles from the African coast.

The flight lasted only about 30 minutes.

EARLY OPTIMISM

Officials here at first appeared to be optimistic that the test would be a complete success.

Some 15 minutes after the missile streaked skyward, the air force announced that preliminary data indicated the rocket performed satisfactorily.

The mission was to recover the nose cone and its passenger if they survived the fiery plunge through the earth's atmosphere which both countries attach to a system of control which would cover the Arctic and related areas."

The decision to get ahead with some form of Arctic control followed a recent reply from Premier Khrushchev on western proposals for disarmament inspection zones.

An East-West meeting of experts now is in process at Geneva to work out possible procedures for policing a ban on atomic weapons tests. The North Atlantic powers, at the same time, are deciding what reply to make to Premier Khrushchev's letter on Arctic inspection.

The two leaders said in a statement that certain aspects of Mr. Khrushchev's letter were unacceptable, but they were nevertheless encouraged by "certain elements of responsiveness to earlier western proposals on the matter."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

We would remember before Thee, O God, those "whom we have loved long since and lost awhile." If our prayers can reach them, give them an ever-increasing unveiling of Thy presence and an ever-enlarging experience of Thy love until the day break and shadows fall away; in the name of Christ. Amen.

De Gaulle Opposed

PARIS (UPI)—Opposition to the policies of Gen. Charles de Gaulle boiled up today from the farmer bloc and Socialists.

Official spokesmen for the farm block came out firmly against de Gaulle's widely-reported plans for a 5 per cent cut in this year's agricultural prices in an effort to stabilize the French economy.

In three resolutions the Socialists asked the premier to dissolve all right-wing public safety committees, and to oppose any move to block wages at their present level and told him how to run next fall's nation-wide constitutional referendum.

A late report from an airlines station manager at Yakutat said the postmaster and his wife, John and Dore Williams, witnessed the death of the three berry pickers on the long, narrow island one mile offshore in Yakutat Bay.

Williams told the airline official there was terrific suction in the water after the end of the island fell away and violent turbulence churned the bay.

Only a few paper plates from the picnic were found after the severe currents subsided.

The tremor shook buildings and rattled windows in Sitka, Juneau, Ketchikan, Skagway, Yakutat and other southeast Alaska communities and was also felt in Whitehorse, Y.T.

Some damage to oil lines, water tanks and docks was done in Yakutat, but apparently the loss was minor elsewhere.

Gov't to Make Decision On Future Status of TCA

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA — Decision on whether Trans-Canada Air Lines' monopoly on trans-continental service will be relaxed will be made by the federal government, Transport Minister Hees said Wednesday.

While the air transport board is to hold hearings on two applications by carriers for competing services, Mr. Hees told the House, the final verdict will be that of the government itself.

Mr. Hees was replying to charges by Lionel Chevrier, (L.

Montreal Laurier), former transport minister, that the present minister has taken "incongruous" and "contradictory" positions on the status of the publicly-owned TCA before and after becoming a cabinet member.

'Sabotage' Charge By Chevrier

The debate developed as the House discussed a measure to set up its sessional committee for examination of the affairs of the CNR, TCA and Canadian National Steamships, all publicly-owned.

The committee, whose establishment was approved, is expected to begin hearings Monday, starting with the CNR.

During the discussion, Mr. Chevrier accused the present government of participating in "sabotaging" the CN's West Indian service.

The eight-ship fleet of the West Coast Ship Expansion Urged

Mr. Hees also urged that shipping facilities on the west coast be expanded.

In the discussion on TCA's transcontinental monopoly, Mr. Chevrier accused Mr. Hees of taking successively three different attitudes:

1. In opposition as a private House member, calling for all-out competition between TCA and private carriers.

2. Declaring last Feb. 7, in an election campaign speech at Timmins, Ont., that TCA's monopoly must cease.

3. Now seemingly favoring "gradual competition."

"As far as I am aware," Mr. Hees said Wednesday, "at no time while I was at Timmins did I say that the TCA monopoly must cease. That was the interpretation taken from my speech by those reporting it."

Mr. Chevrier also asked about the report recently received from Stephen Wheatcroft, British air consultant, suggesting Canada will not be able to support economically two trans-continental air services before 1966.

Former Fire Chief J. A. Raymond Dies

A former Victoria fire chief, Joseph Armour Raymond, 70, died suddenly at Royal Jubilee Hospital Wednesday, where he went to visit his wife. Funeral is Saturday.

Mrs. Raymond, who was admitted as a patient recently, was reported in good condition.

The former chief retired from the force in 1947 after almost 38 years' experience. Prior to that he served 7½ years in the Royal Navy.

During his term in office, Mr. Raymond saw the command changed from a horse-drawn to a motorized brigade. He was a lieutenant in 1912, captain in 1921, deputy chief in 1933 and chief in 1945.

Besides Mrs. Raymond, relatives in England are his sole survivors.

Funeral takes place under Masonic auspices at McCall Brothers' Funeral Chapel, 3:30 p.m. Saturday. Burial will be in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

It is "almost certain" Saanich ratepayers will be asked this December to vote on the question of municipal amalgamation, it was learned today.

Coun. Charles Nelles said the move hinged on a survey, expected to be completed by fall by the inter-municipal committee of Victoria and the three municipalities concerned — Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

One-Man 'Putter' Could Foul Crescent's Royal Precision

Wind, tide, weather and small craft permitting, HMCS Crescent will carry out her duties in the Royal naval review Tuesday with split-second precision.

But one man in a small boat could "foul up" the operation. This is the opinion of Capt. J. C. Pratt, commanding officer of the destroyer aboard which Princess Margaret will inspect the fleet.

A dry run of the review route Wednesday proved the ship's complement is tuned to perfection and that she will be exactly on time throughout the run.

There is a "cushion" of less than two minutes allowed for the whole operation, which starts at 2:35 p.m. Tuesday and is completed when Crescent anchors at the head of the review line at 3:40 p.m.

Critical Area

But the navy's worry—carried mainly on the shoulders of Capt. Pratt—is that small craft may ignore warnings to shipping already issued by the department of transport marine agent here.

DREW HOSTS MARGARET

LONDON (CP) — Princess Margaret attended an all-Canadian party Wednesday night, 48 hours before leaving London by air on the start of a month-long tour of Canada.

The princess was guest of honor at a dinner at the residence of George Drew, Canadian high commissioner to the United Kingdom, and Mrs. Drew.

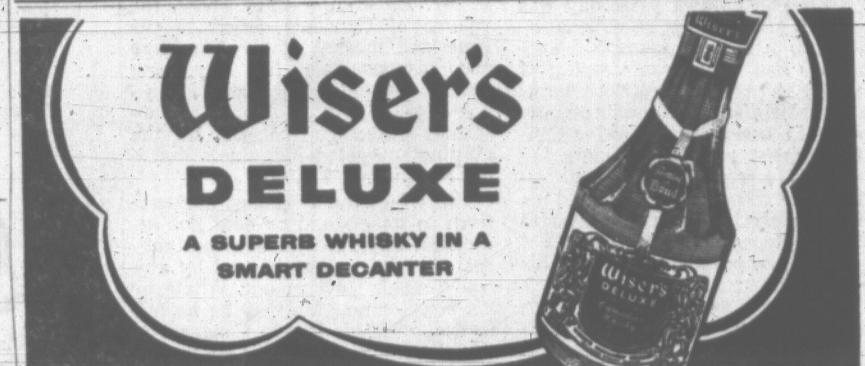

The princess will travel more than 3,000 miles in the RCAF's plush C-5 transport aircraft during her cross-Canada trip July 12 to Aug. 11.

The air force announced today that she will spend about 19 hours aboard the plane during the airborne portion of her tour. The aircraft also was used by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip during visits to Canada and the United States in 1951 and 1957.

The princess will use the lounge in the rear portion of the aircraft. It is equipped with modern facilities, including a private cloakroom and washroom with hot and cold running water.

The C-5 has a maximum range of 3,000 miles and normally cruises at 320 miles an hour.

The President in Ottawa

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER'S speech in Ottawa yesterday was a sincere and eloquent re-affirmation of North America's historic friendship. He had come to our capital as a friend and he spoke with a friend's candor. His failure to indicate any change in American policy for Canada's benefit may be discouraging after his ceremonial visit had received an excessive advance build-up, but evidently he was determined to offer no hopes which he could not deliver in the practical politics of his own nation.

His speech seemed indeed to be mainly a defence of existing American policy and a reminder to Canada that it has been well treated in general by its great neighbor. With a frankness which could hardly have marked the meeting of any other two nations Mr. Eisenhower analyzed and answered all Canada's main complaints against the actions of his Government.

The American grain disposal program to which Canada has often objected so strenuously has been in the President's judgment a useful contribution to the world's prosperity and thus indeed has benefitted this country. In any case, he argued, the objectionable aspects of the program have been eliminated. This is not Ottawa's official opinion.

Even more frank was the President's defence of American tariff policy, the subject of vigorous Canadian complaint. It was true, he said, that Canada sold far less in the American market than it bought there but this trading deficit was balanced by our sales in other world markets and by American investment here. And he added—with oblique reference to one of Mr. Diefenbaker's earlier proposals, recently abandoned—that both Canada and the United States desired a system of natural multi-lateral trade, and opposed any artificial diversion of commercial channels.

In abstract theory this dictum is

For Lasting Value

VARIOUS AUTHORITATIVE spokesmen have been commenting on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in recent days. Viscount Montgomery felt that NATO had achieved its function in Europe, viz., to preserve the Western area from Russian communist encroachment, and that it should now look farther abroad to continue its work.

His remarks may be open to criticism, of course. Many will feel that the depleted NATO forces in Europe have in no sense finished their job—that the need will continue indefinitely. But there is little doubt now that the threat of actual invasion which appeared so real a few years ago has largely disappeared. The vital change in armaments brought by atomic missiles must also, of course, be accorded significant weight in this regard.

Now Mr. Paul-Henri Spaak, that veteran of European politics, is on record with a somewhat similar statement. Speaking as secretary-general of NATO he said the original conception of the western organization is "cramped and outdated."

He agreed with Viscount Montgomery that the NATO job was global, but he extended it function-sound. In practical affairs, however, as Mr. Eisenhower must know, the volume of Canada's deficit in the American market is far too large and insupportable for any long period. No exact balance of continental trade is possible or even desirable, but some reduction in the existing one-sided bargain is essential in the Canadian view.

This fact the President does not seem to understand or does not accept. At any rate, he does not suggest that it can be changed by any policy of his Government. Whatever his private thoughts may be he has to deal with his hostile Congress in the election year and his speech, of course, was directed at his own people as well as Canadians.

It is extremely disappointing, nevertheless, that in this long-standing issue so vital to Canada he could offer us no hope of any reduction in the trade barriers standing against us on the border.

In the same vein Mr. Eisenhower strongly defended American investment here, reminding us quite properly that this capital inflow has vastly expanded Canadian industry. If the ownership of Canada's corporations by Americans raises certain problems from time to time these, he says, can be settled by goodwill and good sense on both sides.

Possibly the private conversations between the President and the Prime Minister will go further than the public speeches. Possibly, also, more progress will be made in the joint problems of the two countries when this year's congressional election is over.

Meanwhile, the President—in public at least—appears satisfied with the current arrangement. If so he must have learned from Mr. Diefenbaker that Canada is not satisfied, in economic terms, and will continue to press for a fairer bargain.

In abstract theory this dictum is also as well as geographically. He said that the economic, political and social side of NATO should be developed as well as the military.

That is a proposal which Canada has long urged. Through Mr. Lester Pearson, both as Canada's former External Affairs Minister and as chairman of the international committee which was formed by NATO to study how the value of the organization could be extended, this country has argued the need to make NATO more than a mere conclave of unrowned king and queen.

There is much that could be done in the fields of trade and cultural exchange to strengthen the Western alliance. Indeed events may show that these things must be done, if NATO is to meet changing conditions and continue to provide the unity and strength which are the reason for its existence.

Such highly sponsored comments, coming at this time, may indicate a new appreciation of the NATO concept and a new willingness to fulfill it. As a purely military effort it would not long survive a determined attempt by Russia to create a semblance of peace. It needs the positive incentive of peaceful objectives to make its military defense fully effective.

What Are the Causeway Facts?

MAYOR SCURRAH HAS EXPRESSED his opinion on plans to study a land crossing project from Vancouver Island to the mainland. His remarks make sense.

If it is reasonable for the Federal Government to investigate at the Canadian taxpayers' expense the feasibility of a causeway from Nova Scotia to Prince Edward Island, it certainly is justifiable for similar studies to be made on the Pacific Coast.

The population of Vancouver Island is three times greater than that of Prince Edward Island. It requires easy communication with the mainland just as much as the eastern island—as events of recent weeks have disclosed.

Whether or not a causeway or a bridge-and-tunnel system is feasible is a question for engineers to settle. The average layman lacks the required knowledge to reach an accurate answer on that point.

But if the Diefenbaker Government is prepared to proceed with the

Good Paint, Good Canvas

WHATEVER THE DIFFERENCES which exist between Deputy Soviet Premier Anastas Mikoyan and conservative Westerners, the Russian figure has at least made his bid for co-existence with traditionalists in art.

On a recent visit to the United Studies initiated by the Liberal administration when Mr. Robert Winters was minister of public works and if the present government is ready to spend $360,000 on that investigation, Vancouver Island appears to have a legitimate claim for like treatment.

Since the $360,000—a combination of one vote of $200,000 and another of $160,000—is included in the current estimates, there is nothing unrealistic about the Victoria mayor's proposal.

At the moment any plan to construct a causeway or a bridge-and-tunnel link to the mainland is anchored only on speculation. Before discussion of the question can be reduced to more practical terms and there are many other questions as to expediency to be answered—knowledge and information on local conditions influencing such connections must be acquired.

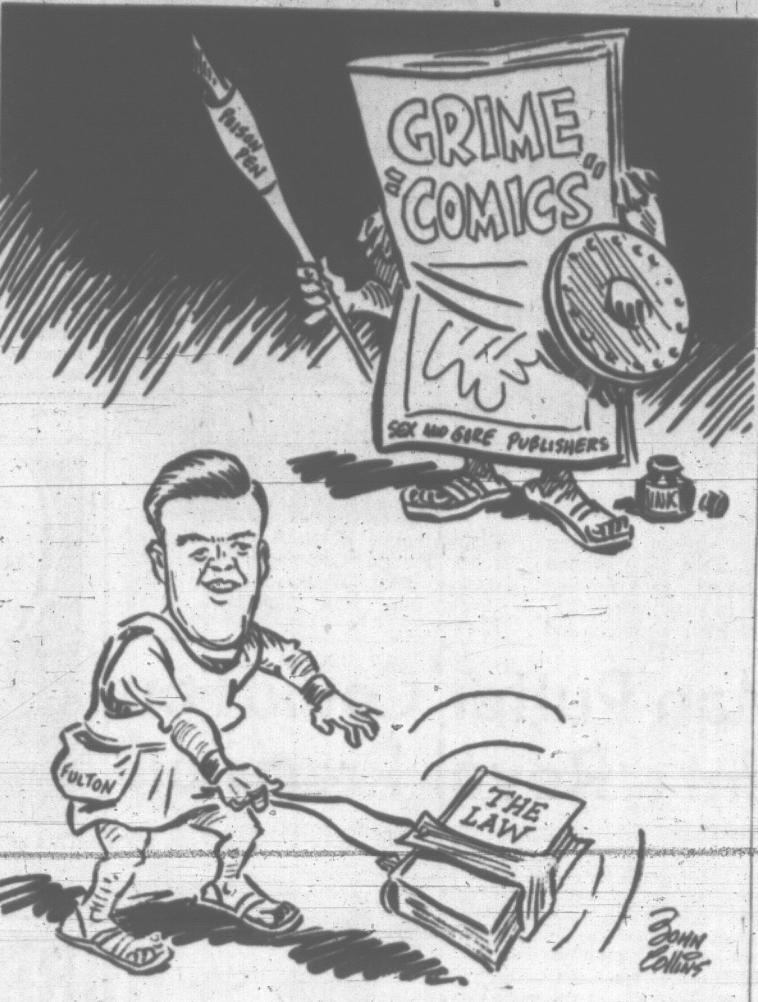

That is the point the mayor is making.

States pavilion at the Brussels world's fair, he was asked his opinion of certain modern paintings on display.

"The paint," said Mr. Mikoyan, "is undoubtedly of very fine quality and the canvas looks like good stuff."

LOOSE ENDS

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

The Demon Lover

SOME anguished Victorians have written me to protest against the views of Mr. Cowlishaw on this best of all possible cities. One civic patriot put in a costly long distance call, dragged me half a mile from my axe and saw in the woods to say that really something must be done about Mr. Cowlishaw before he completely ruined Victoria's reputation. This sort of patriotism is magnificent and moving but a grave loss of adrenalin in hot weather. Victoria has survived many grave threats from Governor Douglas' time onward. I feel pretty confident that it can survive Mr. Cowlishaw. But I feel equally sure that he will long survive the charm of Victoria.

MR. COWLISHAW is a brilliant man but young, and therefore impatient. Just the same he has written many words of truth which we should take to heart.

He says, for example, that there is little for the tourist to do in Victoria. Of course there isn't. There is nothing but the enjoyment of one of the few unspoiled, or only partially spoiled spots in America. Give us time. We shall spoil everything when we get around to it and then the tourist will be able to enjoy here all the horrors that he enjoys at home.

A GAIN, Mr. Cowlishaw says that the Butchart Gardens are only a bouquet of flowers and a few rocks. How true. It is also true that our whole planet is only a little vegetation and a few rocks, the noblest forest is only a few billion cells of wood, the greatest man only a few cells of flesh and the most successful journalist customarily a man who looks around for the biggest greenhouse and the biggest rock to heave at it.

The greenhouse of Victoria has not been damaged in the least by Mr. Cowlishaw's little misguided missiles, all launched, I suspect, in a spirit of pure fun. He throws rocks at Victoria, like a shy lover, to conceal his passion.

After a while, however, like all new arrivals, he will lose that boyish sense of humor and become very solemn about Victoria. Already it is apparent that many Early and Mid-Victorians have lost their sense of humor, when Mr. Cowlishaw makes them take pen in hand and write a furious defence of a city that requires none.

MR. COWLISHAW no doubt is laughing but he won't laugh long. One of these days another stranger will arrive and explain in print what is wrong with Victoria and Mr. Cowlishaw. I confidently predict, will rush to the rescue of his beloved, will defend her honor to the last drop of ink, will be moved too deep for tears by the smallest flower that grows at Butchart Gardens, will stand on guard at Beacon Hill and prove, with expert argument, that the City Hall is a unique piece of architecture, which nobody can deny.

As an older Victorian Mr. Cowlishaw will be a solid citizen and civic patriot but his sense of humor will be different, a little more subdued and subtle. The only thing we have to fear is that Victoria meanwhile will have changed as he desires before he gets the hang of the town and drinks the milk of paradise.

Laughing Fit to Bust

I read Mr. Cowlishaw's daily articles entitled "A Newcomer's Look" at Victoria, which are very amusing and now (Friday's issue) comes a series of letters under the heading "Aux Armes Citoyens" which letters are still more amusing.

I would imagine that the writers of those most indignant letters of objection to Mr. Cowlishaw's articles must be devoid of any sense of humor—I am looking forward to one more letter from one of your numerous correspondents who is very much pro-Victorian and very anti-British and when that appears, if it does, it will be the anti-climax and I shall certainly bust!

Now then my dearly beloved but narrow minded citizens let us have a really sarcastic answer—I like being amused—childish isn't it?

STILL LAUGHING

Go Home

Cowlishaw, go back to England. There are planes leaving every day for you, and take those balloons back with you.

You have quite a lot in common. You are full of wind. The balloons are none, of course. Perhaps that is the reason there is none left for them.

You are really funny. There are more English people here than any town in Canada and we are getting a kick out of you.

Did you bring your horse and trap or bike here?

Our returned men are better off, also the aged, our climate, etc., so perhaps the Times will put you in the funny strip. It's more fitting.

Do you know that saying "never bite the hand that feeds you?" Ask the English people why they come here, and if they are happy. I am English and this is next to heaven.

AL SMITH.

Good Luck to You

I have lived in Victoria many years. To me it's the same old place.

I do get a kick reading the Times' "A Look At Victoria" and what you say. Some things are true about people and gardens too.

Yes sir, you are right in many things. Glad you have the nerve to speak your mind. Never mind letters about you in the paper. The cap fits them. Anyway go ahead and good luck to you.

AN OLD TIMER.

Crashing Bore

That Cowlishaw character may return from whence he came! The sooner the better.

I belong in no category he has been writing about so I have no axe to grind at any of the feeble cracks he has taken at dress, age, manners, brains, etc., but the guy just can't write. He is trying so hard to be witty, sophisticated, satirical and fails dismally.

I have tried to be fair to give him a chance and have read his column since its inauguration. But today is the end. He has had the course as far as my reading his stuff is concerned. The lad is a crashing bore.

I have just noticed his column says "Last of a Series" well, thank goodness for that. Try him at reporting, he may not be so obnoxious at that.

Cowlishavian Ode

I am sure all Canadians would hope the honored Princess Margaret would feel embarrassed to pick up your paper and read such insane material written by a man from her homeland. Let's hope it is dropped and that he is shipped off before she gets here.

Below I have construed what I think he would be all good Canucks' thoughts of him:

With a kind and generous gesture all our pity we bestow
On this boy who writes observances on subjects he don't know.

That he'd dare to be sarcastic, be audacious and impudent
On facts he knows no more about than we know of the moon;

Makes us Canucks feel justified to address him from the heart

That if he's going back to England, well, right now's the time to start. So that Margaret on her visit in our papers will not find such warped and insane writings from an undeveloped mind.

BUCK O'NEIL.

The Face Is Cowlishaw

Who is this chap Cowlishaw? Why did he come here so completely disenchanted and out of sorts with us all (except the storekeepers it seems). Why oh why, does he stay? . . . It used to be that the name "Englishman" carried with it a sort of vague aura of tolerance, kindness and some good taste, but in the years since my folk left, caustic wit at either folk's expense is now the trend apparently.

The face is the face of Cowlishaw but the words are the words of Muggeridge.

While we're on the subject of faces and you brought it up first, it's obvious you haven't taken a good look at your own recently, if that is your likeness in the column. It isn't wrinkled yet, but put a few more years on it . . .

BUCK O'NEIL.

He Can Be Spared

I am a tourist living for more than three weeks in Victoria and have just read an article of a Mr. Cowlishaw in the Victoria Daily Times which I cannot pass without making a few remarks.

It is of course, superfluous to say a word about the brochure of the Empress Hotel. Where on earth is the tourist who will visit a place just to live in a certain hotel? This kind of talk makes no sense.

But what I cannot leave without a word of refutation is the passage headed "Bad Deal." I think the writer must be blind when walking around. What he terms as "fantastic claims of Victoria's beauty," etc., are to my mind fully justified.

I may say that I too saw quite a bit of this world and for instance, I prefer the site of Beacon Hill to that of Naples.

I could continue the praise of this lovely spot but everybody living here knows it quite well and doesn't want any confirmation.

For your guidance I add that I am a Swiss living in Zurich, to end; I may state that what is

The Balloons

I MUST SAY that of all our centennial excitements, I've enjoyed the balloons the most. They've been wonderful. The best bit of comedy we've had for years.

And, during this last hot spell, I've been employing myself by dreaming up an amusing film that we could make around them.

It wouldn't be a documentary. It wouldn't stick too closely to the truth. It needn't even be based on Victoria. It would simply use the best parts of the balloon fiasco, and weave them into the plot of the story.

We could open the film with an imaginary meeting of merchants and businessmen who want to brighten the town for a season-long celebration. (What a chance for series of shots of different faces!) Naturally, we'd include a picture of the boney Scot who knew where he could get balloons verra cheap.

But, and this is where the plot begins to thicken, they've been stored in a warehouse somewhere in London. Just before they're shipped to Canada, an international jewel thief who has pulled off a daring robbery hides a valuable diamond necklace in the false floor of one of the gondolas.

From there we'd switch back to the citizens watching the balloons go up. The jewel thief has flown out to Canada, and he's watching, too. (He's not quite sure which balloon he hid it in.)

We'd see the balloons taut and grand above the city streets. We'd have shots of the townspeople, proud and admiring.

Then with some sly amusing music we'd see the gradual drooping, the general desperation of the merchants, the delight of the thief.

Specialist Training

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Probably few people realize how many years go into the training of a good medical specialist. After graduating from high school, the lad (or young woman) must study three or four years in a university, learning something about the "basic sciences," such as mathematics, chemistry, physics, anatomy (the structure of the body), embryology (the growth of the body in the womb), histology (the microscopic structure of the body), physiology (the functioning of the body), and biochemistry (the chemistry of the body).

After this, the student has two years in which he is introduced to most of the basic problems of medicine. Then, for two years, he goes each day into a big hospital and studies disease in patients as well as in books. After that, if he has done well, he probably will graduate and get his M.D. degree.

In a few universities he does not get his M.D. until he has had a year of internship, during which time he lives in a hospital, and does much of the examining and treating of patients—under the supervision of the physicians on the staff. As one can well imagine, this intern year is likely to be the most instructive of all that

SYNOPSIS — A significant change was taking place in the weather pattern this morning. The ridge of high pressure offshore which was held fast for a week or more shows signs of weakening and of moving westward at least for a little while. This will allow a weak disturbance now in the northern Gulf of Alaska to move through northern regions Friday morning and to reach southern areas late Friday or Saturday. This disturbance will bring cloud lower temperatures and give possibly a little rain with its passage.

Canada "Vassal"
U.S. Aim—Pravda

LONDON (Reuters) — The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda said today the role of a raw materials appendage of the United States.

At the same time, by means of sundry military agreements, the ruling circles of the United States are intensively transforming Canada into an economic vassal and "bridgehead for destructive atomic warfare."

In an article on the current Canadian-American talks in Ottawa, Pravda declared:

"The American monopolies, with the direct support of the United States government, are trying to reduce Canada to the level at which the high-standing guests from Washington will also have to listen."

Showing Off at Christmas

A continuity of interesting plants is the aim of the indoor gardener, whether he has a small greenhouse or only a sunny window.

Cyclamens for Christmas flowering are a satisfactory subject to raise from seed, and will give the amateur ample reason for showing off his prowess and collecting ooh's and aah's from friends.

The seeds are large enough to sow singly, an inch apart, in a sandy-peat moss mixture in which the seedlings remain for about three months.

When three leaves have developed, the tiny corm will be large enough to handle safely, and will transplant, since the root system will also be well advanced.

The seedlings may go individually into two-inch pots of light loam and well-rotted manure, both put through a half-inch screen.

At this stage the corm (hypocotyl) is set so that its top is level with the soil. At subsequent shifts into larger pots, the corm is placed progressively higher in the soil, until in its last pot, usually a six-inch, it rests on top of the soil.

Shade, and as cool a temperature as possible is required during summer months, while 50 degrees (F) is high enough for winter nights. (Contrast this with the temperatures of most of our homes around Christmas.) Daytime sun raising the temperature to 65 degrees (F) is tolerated, with plenty of ventilation and humidity.

Do you need a large cash income for a limited period of time? THE ACCELERATED INCOME PLAN of All Canadian Compound Fund has been created for this purpose."

Drivers Ignoring New Rail Signals

Recent installation of automatic railway signals at road crossings is a "foolish waste of public money" unless police start cracking down on motorists, a railway official here charged today.

Stricter policing of signal crossings in Victoria and up-island was demanded by Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway superintendent D.G. Hartley.

"A few prosecutions with the necessary publicity would have a most excellent effect" in reducing the number of drivers who ignore signals in operation, he wrote the provincial highways department and city hall accident report, he said.

'Real Bilko' Shoots His Line Here

By AB KENT

Play it cool, have no fear—

Everlovin' Bilko is here!

The real-life counterpart of TV's famous army personality is here to shoot in Victoria City Police Revolver Club's 39th annual tournament at Thetis range.

He is Sgt. F/C Willis Nelson, of Camp Hanford in eastern Washington, where the U.S. army maintains Nike support for a nearby Atomic Energy Commission plant.

But anyone who knows him calls him Bilko.

As his wife says, "It fits."

Besides, he even looks a bit like Phil Silvers, the actor who plays the part of the TV sergeant with all the angles.

Mrs. Nelson describes her husband thusly:

"IT FITS"

"You know Bilko on TV? There's never any problem, always a way out? Well, it fits. He's never confounded more than two minutes."

"Many men would just give up, but he always has an alternative plan. He wonders why he doesn't shoot well. I tell him he can't do all that worrying about things and still shoot well."

In this game, no matter how well you shoot, it's never good enough."

"Bilko" pondered this angle a moment before agreeing that preoccupation with other matters is "an awfully good excuse."

He spent three years in Japan before the posting to Camp Hanford.

NOT THE MODEL

Contrary to a popular theory, the TV Bilko was not patterned after Sgt. Nelson. Bilko appeared while the Nelsons were in Japan and the first time

"Meeting people on an individual basis is what puts over policy. If we can reach individual understanding, there should not be any international problems."

Stampede Cowboy Injured; Record Crowd Mark Seen

CALGARY (CP)—A Brahma bull rider suffered broken ribs and a chuckwagon race horse had to be destroyed after breaking its leg at the Calgary Stampede Wednesday.

Growing tension as cowboys battled for rodeo championships and favorable sunny weather drew a record attendance for the half-day civic holiday of 94,416, bringing the three-day total figure this year to 282,049. This is 15,480 more than last year's three-day attendance.

Stampede officials now are optimistic of establishing an all-time record attendance for the six-day rodeo and exhibition.

The first chuckwagon spill this year came on the last heat of the day's races. It wrecked the Ed Kroschel wagon from Beiseker, Alta., and one horse of his four-horse team had to be shot. Last year three horses were destroyed.

Two other collisions resulted in chuckwagon heats. A mounted outrider was caught between the outfits of Ronnie Glass of Torringer, Alta., and kelman, Neb., had to be treated in hospital for a sprained back.

Americans dominated most rodeo events with Benny Reynolds of Melrose, Mont., earning the top points in bull riding. Veteran Deb Copemhaver of Post Falls, Idaho, was leading in North American saddle bronc riding.

Jack Bloxam of Havre, Mont., leads the calf roping. Pete Crump of Post Falls the steer decorating and Bert France of Bellemore, S.D., the bareback bronc riding.

6 Japanese Navy Ships To Visit B.C.

TOKYO (AP) — A fleet of six Japanese naval vessels will leave here Aug. 8 on a three-month training cruise off the Canadian and U.S. Pacific coast.

It will be the second trans-Pacific training cruise for Japan's fledgling navy.

Last year four naval vessels visited Hawaii—the first naval visit since the 1941 Pearl Harbor attack—on a 46-day cruise.

This year's fleet will be headed by the flagship Harukaze, a 1,700-ton made-in-Japan destroyer; two 1,700-ton submarine-destroyers, Ayanami and Uranami; and three 1,450-ton U.S. obtained frigates, Sugi, Kaya and Kiri will accompany the Harukaze.

The squadron, under the command of Rear Admiral Haruo Yoshida, will visit Seattle, Vancouver, and San Francisco. It will also make calls for fuel and supplies at Pearl Harbor.

John L. Sanders, 35, was lowered 600 feet in a litter to the floor of Conejos Canyon, 30 miles northwest of here.

Don Bewley, 22, who was lowered to Sanders' lofty perch with food and water Tuesday, clambered up to the canyon rim on nylon ropes used by the soldiers to reach the shelf.

Sanders and William E. Garver, 33, New Mexico University auditor, slipped from the rugged canyon lip last Friday night.

Garver was killed in an 800-foot plunge.

Speedway Theme: Let's Stop Cooper

Dave Cooper has captured two straight main events for the second time this year and, for a second time again, the cry at Western Speedway is: "Let's stop Cooper."

With Cooper, Dick Varley and Al Smith racing neck-and-neck in the hunt for individual driving honors, and a number of other drivers close on their tails, the point race at Langford track is the closest in history.

Stock car enthusiasts feel Cooper is starting his big surge that may turn the point scramble into a runaway. Some fans look to Smith, winner of three straight main events and current point leader, to stop Cooper. Others bank on Varley.

But, surprisingly, the man with the most support these days is Larry Van Humbeck. The 28-year-old independent logger seems to be the healthiest driver on the track (six-two and 200 pounds) and also seems to have the healthiest machine at his disposal.

In the past two meetings, Van Humbeck has posted the fastest mark in the time trials and has also been a familiar figure at the winner's post during the last month.

Now in his third year of racing, the fiery-tempered Van Humbeck started his surge by winning the main event at Nanaimo on June 20.

His current ambition is to win the driving championship and the man he must apparently beat is Cooper, whom Van Humbeck believes is the "toughest driver to get by."

That will be his goal when stock cars race Saturday night, starting at 7:30.

Cal McLish, who allowed only five hits before being removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth, received credit for his first victory over the Yankees in three years. It was the Yankees' sixth straight loss at home.

Three doubleheaders are scheduled today as all teams swing back into action after the All-Star break.

Soccer Matches

Canadian Scottish of the Victoria and District Football League will play two exhibition games this week.

Tonight at 7 the Scots will tackle Navy at Naden grounds, while Saturday at 2 p.m. they will play a team from the visiting HMS Newcastle, also at Naden.

"Funny," he laughed, "as a result I got more control on my drive than I ever had before."

Willey and Ticehurst were on last year's B.C. team. This is the first time Johnston has made the squad.

Prince Makes Grade

LONDON (AP)—Prince Philip will show his skill as a polo player before a television audience. The British Broadcasting Corporation said a match in which the prince is playing will be televised July 23.

Winners meet today to decide

HAMILTON (CP)—End Art Powell who performed with Toronto Argonauts and Montreal Alouettes in 1957 Wednesday joined the Tiger-Cats' training camp.

There's Room For Argument

By ERNIE FEDORUK

A few minutes before directors of the B.C. Golf Association went into a huddle Sunday at Colwood to select the provincial Willingdon Cup team, acquaintances of Laurie Kerr's were up-in-arms over an apparent rumor that the city golfer may be ignored by the selectors.

Two hours earlier, Laurie had won the B.C. Closed title in convincing style, posting a five-stroke margin over a select field. As it turned out, the mild furore not only was unwarranted but it was also uncalled for because it placed Laurie in an uncomfortable situation in the eyes of other friends.

And after Kerr was named to the team along with Doug Bajus and Bob Kidd of Vancouver, the hue and cry still continued as other golf fans started to champion a cause on behalf of Bill McColl.

Some feel McColl was slighted because he was not asked to take part in Wednesday's special playoff to decide fourth place and a team alternate. Bill and Vancouver's Hugh Morrison, who was not competing for a team berth, had tied for second place in the Closed with identical 216s.

We have often heard it mentioned that those guys on the mainland will never consider an Island golfer."

We've heard it so often that some day soon we'll have to believe it. If such a situation exists, then it is unfortunate that dim-witted men are allowed to roam freely. But we digress.

In all fairness to directors of the BCGA, it should be mentioned that McColl, in the words of a mainland director, "was definitely considered."

In fact, only a decimal separated Kerr, McColl and three or four mainland golfers' medal averages prior to the Closed tournament. Laurie's convincing victory in the Closed earned him the second spot on the team.

McColl, unfortunately, did not play in any mainland tournament that counts in the averages leading to selection on the team.

Bill missed his chance, according to two directors, principally because of the fact he did not play in the B.C. Amateur at Vancouver last month. Here again, an argument develops as to why should an Island golfer have to go to the mainland.

B.C.'s record in Willingdon Cup play in recent years is by far the best of any province and it would seem that our method of selection produces winning results.

Appearances in both the Amateur and Closed are important, which is as it should be.

This year the Amateur was held in Vancouver and the Closed event went to the Island. In other years, however, this has not been the case.

The BCGA could improve its selection method by seeing to it that the two tournaments are alternated between Island and mainland.

The procedure in the past has been to award the Island Closed tournament once every three years and the Amateur once in four years.

It's certainly not fair to Island golfers who are forced to make two trips to the mainland in two out of every four years, while the Vancouver golfers do not necessarily have to visit Vancouver Island.

Under the present setup, the mainland golfers most certainly do receive greater benefits.

The locker room grumblings will continue as long as the B.C. body continues its present policy regarding the two important tournaments.

FOUR GAMES SET

Baseball Features Navy Week Activity

A series of baseball games will highlight four days of Navy Week sports activity this weekend.

On Friday the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League All-Stars will play a team from the USS Bennington, while they will go out against USS Estes and USS Wiltsie Saturday. On Sunday D & D Tire meets USS Bennington-Sunday evening.

All games will be played at Royal Athletic Park and all navy, army and air force personnel in uniform will be admitted free.

Four softball games have been scheduled between Navy teams and members of Victoria's Senior "B" League.

Navy personnel in uniform will be admitted to Saturday stock car races at Western Speedway at a reduced rate.

Getz in Semis Of City Tennis

Reidar Getz, defending B.C. junior champion, is not faltering in the Victoria hard court tennis championships.

Getz chalked up an impressive 7-5, 6-3, win over Peter Bousfield Wednesday to move into the men's singles semifinal Wednesday.

Third-ranked Ron Mitchell, former city and Victoria Club champion, also advanced to the semifinals with a 6-1, 6-1, win over youthful Jerry Devine.

Bob Peskett stopped Ray Aldeger, 6-1, 6-0, to join Getz and Mitchell in the semifinals. Also in the round of four is Alec Stencil, the defending champion.

Semis will be played Saturday, with Stencil matched against Peskett and Mitchell playing Getz.

CENTURY CLUBSOLARIUM DERBY

Joe Edgington, you might say, is a fiend for work. By day he works at selling furniture. Then, in the evening, he sells tickets to the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association-Times Solarium Derby.

This year, for the second year in a row, he has sold over 100 tickets to the giant affair to qualify for membership in the derby's Century Club.

"But Joe may not consider his evening chores "work." "I can't afford to give money to the crippled children," he says, "but I can help them by selling tickets."

Joe has a daughter who will be three on Saturday. His wife, Ann, shares his enthusiasm for the cause.

If you phone him at 2-1632 in the evening he will be glad to tell you how the Queen Alexandra Solarium assists crippled children or add another sale to his still-mounting total.

Rod Hopes to Repeat In Babe Ruth Playoff

If a Victoria Babe Ruth League playoff game at Beacon Hill Park Wednesday was any indication, the Victoria All-Stars mists, other Victoria team competing, will meet Youbou at 5 p.m.

Winners will meet for the title at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, while losers will play a consolation game to determine third place in the tourney at 10 a.m.

In other minor league playoff action Wednesday, Merchants downed Vickery Construction, 20-17, to advance to the Cadboro Bay Little League finals against Boosters.

BIG INNING

Merchants won mainly on the strength of a 12-run first inning as neither team played particularly tight ball. Both semifinalists committed four errors.

PLAY COWICHAN

Now all that Fuller wants is to do the same in the weekend tourney. On Saturday the Victoria League will play Cowichan at 10 a.m. at Royal Athlete Park, while Evening Opti-calists, other Victoria team competing, will meet Youbou at 5 p.m.

Winners will meet for the title at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, while losers will play a consolation game to determine third place in the tourney at 10 a.m.

DODGERS

David Earthy and Calvin Batchelor both were blasted from the mound in that hectic first canto before Glen Myles finally came in to halt the tide, too late. David McSween started the game for Merchants but was relieved in the third by Bruce Logan, who eventually was credited with the win.

Halecos Spot in Final

VANCOUVER (CP) — Halecos lead at the seven-minute mark moved into the final of the Shrine Soccer Cup Wednesday night with a 4-3 overtime win over St. Andrews before 2,832 fans. Halecos now meet Carlingos in the final Saturday.

Normie McLeod gave Halecos the lead in the 21st minute of the first half, but Halecos lost the lead seven minutes later when Brian Philley equalized.

The same player dropped Halecos into arrears at the 42nd minute, surprising Halecos' goalie Ken Pears with a fast shot.

In the second half, the game was again tied at the end of the 15th minute when Normie McLeod combined with his brother Gordon to score.

In the overtime period which followed, St. Andrews took the

'Rally Esquimalt' To See Princess

Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele today called for a mass turnout of residents to welcome Princess Margaret when she drives through that centre Tuesday, just after 5 p.m.

FOR MARGARET Non-Union Brooch Protested

VANCOUVER (CP) — Presentation by the B.C. Centennial Committee of a non-union-made brooch to Princess Margaret is being protested by the Vancouver Jewelry Workers' Union.

A union spokesman said Wednesday the floral brooch was made in a non-union shop and that many of the union shops had no opportunity to bid on the brooch contract.

The union has lodged a protest with the centennial committee. Vancouver officials said the protest has been forwarded to headquarters in Victoria for consideration.

"If the presentation was made by a public body in Great Britain the brooch would certainly be union-made," the union spokesman said.

Don't Snap Too Close Or Police Will Bark

Don't dash close to the royal car for a close-up snap of Princess Margaret.

"If you rush out, you will be dealt with severely," police have warned.

This is just one of the security measures to be enforced during the visit of Princess Margaret. RCMP and Victoria district police will share in 24-hour guard duties.

Much of their work will be done without public knowledge that the police umbrella is in operation. At other times, the guard will be obvious.

Two Victoria motorcycle police will precede the royal cars on any drives through Victoria. Behind them will be a car of RCMP officials. The royal car will be second in line, flanked by two RCMP motorcycles.

Other motorcycle escorts will dash further ahead to close intersections to cross traffic. Drivers and passengers in cars

A THREE-MONTH TRIP TO SINGAPORE

Commercial aircraft traffic crowds which may jam TCA facilities at Patricia Bay Airport will be interrupted while the royal plane bringing Princess Margaret lands for welcoming ceremonies Saturday at 10 a.m.

Local Trans-Canada Air Lines manager Wallace Courtney said while all arrangements are not firm, he expects schedules will not be delayed "more than half an hour."

If any aircraft appear over the airport during the welcoming, it is expected they will be required to remain circling and avoid landing until the royal party departs.

Mr. Courtney said his office will arrange some measure of traffic direction for cars and of the vital waterway.

Everything Stays Up in Air Until Princess Drives Off

Commercial aircraft traffic crowds which may jam TCA facilities at Patricia Bay Airport will be interrupted while the royal plane bringing Princess Margaret lands for welcoming ceremonies Saturday at 10 a.m.

The manager said decoration of the TCA terminal exterior would be carried out by the Department of Transport which owns the building. TCA will decorate the interior. The Princess will not enter the terminal but the decorations will remind passengers of the event.

B.C. Centennial Committee has provided flags and bunting to the Department of Transport authorities.

A spokesman for the navy said the RCN will only be involved with provision of an honor guard, the Naden Band and a party of men to line the roadway through the airport property.

WCB PENSIONS CLAIMED 'WOEFULLY INADEQUATE'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver city council has asked the Union of B.C. Municipalities to seek bigger Workmen's Compensation Board payments to families of people killed in industrial accidents.

Alderman Evelyn Caldwell described the payments of $75 a month to a widow of a fatally injured worker, and $25 a month to each of his children, as "woefully inadequate."

$10 Million Plan To Reclaim Land

(From CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER — A $10,000,000 scheme to reclaim 12,000 acres of mud flats at Boundary Bay, near the U.S. border, is expected to get under way this year.

PENSIONERS SHUN CEMETERY 'COMMERCIALS'

NANAIMO (CP)—Joe Sutton, president of the Old Age Pensioners Organization here, has turned down a request from the manager of a burial ground to address one of the OAPO's meetings.

"Probably trying to boost his membership," 82-year-old Mr. Sutton said.

Plumbers Set Pickets Again At Pulp Mill

PORT ALBERNI (CP)

Plumbers and pipefitters were picketing the Alberni pulp and paper division of MacMillan & Bloedel again Wednesday after a restraining injunction was dissolved by a Vancouver court.

The union re-established its picket line against Dominion Construction Company at 10:45 Tuesday night and members of the papermakers' and pulp and sulphite workers' union were not crossing it.

Jim Barton, business agent for the plumbers and pipefitters, said "It is a legal strike" and declared no arrangements had been made for the operating unions to enter the mill.

The union first struck on the job, where Dominion Construction is in the final stages of a multi-million dollar expansion project.

United Church Group Told of AOTS Parley

CHEMAINUS — Reports of the national "As One That Serves" convention in Saskatoon were given the local branch of the United Church organization by delegates, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hess and Mr. and Mrs. E. Jackson.

The club decided to send to young men to the Christian Leadership Training School at Naramata, and to donate $25 to the Kinsmen lifeguard fund here.

E. Leonard Boulbee, head of the Vancouver real estate firm of Boulbee, Sweet and Company Ltd., said Wednesday the company is applying for leases on the land, which will be used to develop an industrial estate. It will include houses, plants, parks and harbor facilities.

Mr. Boulbee said the scheme involves extending dikes 2½ to three miles beyond the high tide mark.

DOUK REMANDED

KELOWNA—John Antiaff, 24, of Crescent Valley, was remanded until July 17 in police court here Wednesday on a charge of manufacturing an explosive.

Sgt. W. B. Irving of the RCMP here said the accused was a Doukhobor. He said he had no previous criminal record.

POLICEMAN GUILTY

VANCOUVER—A former Edmonton policeman pleaded guilty Wednesday to six charges of armed robbery in Vancouver and suburban Burnaby:

Edward Lowes, 28, asked in police court that a seventh hold-up, in Vancouver, be taken into consideration when he is sentenced.

He was remanded one week for a pre-sentence report and for hearing of a charge that he fired a shot at a store manager with intent to prevent arrest or detention.

BOY RESCUED

VANCOUVER—A Seattle tug, the Sea Wolf, Wednesday picked up a small boy from White Islet, in Georgia Strait, where he said he had been left by an older brother following a quarrel earlier in the day.

The boy told his rescuers he and his brother had been out in an outboard motor boat, and that the older boy had returned to Wilson Creek without him.

PENTICTON FLOODED

PENTICTON—Streets were flooded Tuesday in Penticton's heaviest downpour for at least five years.

In two hours one inch of rain pelted the downtown area but three miles away at the airport less than one-tenth of an inch was recorded.

Ken, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kathrens and Central Junior High pupil, won TCA trip for efficiency and courtesy on three-year newspaper run covering Pembroke-Gladstone-Fernwood area. Trip is sponsored by The Times and Weekend Magazine.

Salmon Fry, Logging Champions Highlight Gala All-Sooke Day

SOOKE — Traditional All-Sooke Day program, with emphasis on barbecued salmon, loggers' sports and fun for all, is set to entertain thousands of visitors starting at 12:30 p.m. July 19.

The event actually will get its kickoff the night before when the Ali-Sooke Day committee will sponsor a marathon run from Victoria's city hall to the Sooke River flats.

Paved popular in its initial running last year, it has attracted a large entry list this year, including Jim Moore, Vancouver, 1957 winner.

The Saturday program will start with track and field events for youngsters and adults, then will swing into loggers' sports at about 2 p.m.

Features will be the riggers' race against time up an 80-foot spar tree and down again, chopping, bucking with hand and power saws, axe falling, and logirling with Sooke world champions Jules and Ardiel Wickheim leading the field.

TIMES BABY SHOW

While the loggers' sports will be the main attraction until about 6 p.m., other events will be going on at the same time.

There will be judging in the baby show, with the Victoria Daily Times trophy for the winner, and salmon and beef will be barbecued over open fires and served all afternoon.

It is estimated 500 pounds of beef and a ton of salmon will be required.

Tug-of-war for men's and women's teams, the midway with booths operated by Sooke and district organizations, horseshoe pitching, and the staking of claims in the annual "gold rush" reminiscent of the real thing on Sooke River in 1864, are a few of the attractions. Final event will be a dance at night in Sooke Community Hall.

Sooke Community Association is responsible for the event but Sooke Centennial Committee is giving the group a healthy assist.

ISLAND DIGEST

Victoria Daily Times 15
THURSDAY, JULY 10, 1958

SKIPPER AT SEA

Whadya Mean This Island Is Canada?

SIDNEY — Customs officials here told this story of the little outboard cruiser that tried to come into the customs float on one of the recent busy days, without much success.

"We'd better go on to the next place," the skipper said to his three passengers. Told by an official that he would have to clear customs because of having come to Canada, he said as he started to speed off: "But we're not going to Canada."

Convinced at last of where he was, he admitted he thought he was in Friday Harbor, on San Juan Island.

"They do it all the time," the customs man said. "They must use road maps."

Fatal Truck Fall Ruled Accidental

NANAIMO (CP)—A coroner's jury here returned a verdict of accidental death at an inquest into the death of John Grears, 77, fatally injured July 4 in a fall from a moving hay truck. Dr. J. H. Baldwin said death was caused by a spinal fracture. Mr. Grears had lived in nearby Coombs since 1931. He was well known as a musician, playing four years with Nanaimo Symphony Orchestra.

SARCASTIC SIGNS

Banned Royal Way Plastered'

COURTENAY — A route proposed by local officials as a scenic drive for Princess Margaret, but later forbidden for "safety reasons," this week was found plastered with warning signs.

The drive was to include a stop at Sandwick Cairn, a trip over Back Road to Glacier View Home for elderly residents, and a visit to St. Joseph's Hospital in Comox.

Local officials learned from Victoria that Back Road was removed from the itinerary on the recommendation of RCMP because of the wooded areas, cliffs and side roads leading into it.

"This road unsafe for the Princess. How about you?" one sign read. Another warned: "Stop! Dangerous cliffs."

A third warned drivers not to tarry in front of Glacier View Home lest an elderly citizen get a look at them.

Unnamed RCMP constables removed the signs.

PENSIONERS LODGE PROTEST ON HOSPITAL

NANAIMO — The city has "no room for the sick, the aged, or the dead," Old Age Pensioners' Organization president Joseph Sutton, 82, said this week in criticism of the city council.

He was complaining of delay in construction of a proposed new hospital, subsequent conversion of the present hospital into a home for the chronically ill, and condition of the city cemetery.

When does an efficiency expert cease to be efficient?

Dr. Burke Sheeran, a U.S. Army efficiency expert, now visiting Victoria, gives this example of inefficient efficiency:

The expert in a San Francisco office noted that a girl clerk made 20 trips a day from her desk to a filing cabinet in the corner of the room, thereby wasting one hour of the firm's precious time.

He therefore had the cabinet placed next to her desk so that she need not move all day. The result? A nervous breakdown. The girl could not stand the pressure of her work without those little trips to the cabinet in the corner.

Dr. Sheeran is attached to the Army Ordnance Corps at Benecia, California.

Knowing how Englishmen love to grouse about the weather, I was not surprised to hear a member of the Royal Marine Band from Kent, England, complaining:

"This place is too—hot for white men."

Yet who was it said mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the noonday sun?

Dr. Gordon Shrum, the University of British Columbia's leading pundit, tells this story of a young woman who was charged in Vancouver with street walking:

"I cannot understand it," the magistrate said. "Your father a respectable gentleman in the pulp and paper business; your brother a leading barrister. How could it be you were walking the streets?"

To which the young woman replied:

"I guess I was just born lucky."

"The English humor is so dry it almost ceases to be humor," writes Mrs. G. R. Hughes, a native of Saanich, from her temporary home at Chelmsford, Essex, England.

"They don't laugh, as we do, at things which look funny. They laugh at frustration, inconvenience, misfortune and all the things that would make the average Canadian blow his top...."

"They are the strangest people."

Carousing Crew Smashes in Car, Helmsman Fined

One of four sailors whose car went adrift and into a pole on Gorge Road, early today was fined $120 in city police court on pleading guilty to driving while under suspension, careless driving and being drunk in public.

Police said three of the rollicking quartet, which included three British seamen from HMS Newcastle, were found half-asleep lounging in deck chairs around the swimming pool of a motor court next door to their abandoned car.

The fourth man, from Newcastle, turned up in a taxi while police were investigating the incident.

Alex N. Lockwood, RCN, appeared in city police court this morning. He had no explanation for the accident.

According to police an old model car was reported abandoned in bushes of a vacant lot on Gorge. No one was about at the time, 4:35 a.m.

Investigation showed the car had gone out of control as it went east on Gorge and struck the pole near Albany, went over the boulevard and into the lot with about $150 damage.

Lockwood was fined $75 for driving under suspension, $35 for careless driving and $10 for being drunk.

STAR VIEW OF SPUTNIK FOR CITY

Tonight Victorians will have their best chance to date to see Sputnik.

Sputnik III, a monstrous 2,925-pound traveller orbiting at 1,175 miles at its highest point, can be seen in two stages.

The rocket will be seen at 10:41 p.m. our time, in the south-east and travelling north at 30 degrees above the horizon.

It will be visible about two minutes.

At 11:55 p.m. the satellite itself will be seen in the northwest, going north, at about 24 degrees above the horizon. View will last a minute.

When Saanich billed the city for the following year's taxes, the city went to court. The trial was held last May.

At the trial, Victoria claimed that a tax-exemption clause under the waterworks act prevented Saanich from billing the city for any share of the 1952 municipal water main.

Saanich countered that the property's tax-exemption benefit ran out in 1919 when the Sooke Lake pipeline was built and the water supply from Elk and Beaver Lakes was discontinued.

Judge Macfarlane's judgment rejected the Saanich argument.

A 33-aircraft flight zoomed over the city at noon including 11 CF-100 jet interceptors flying an "M" formation accompanied by 12 Sabre jets, four T-33 jet trainers, five four-engine Lancasters and one Neptune sub-hunter.

Actual fly-past, coinciding with a tri-service parade at 11:40 a.m. Monday, will comprise 37 aircraft, including 31

The Princess' visit began going in the city today.

Leading the field was a Chamber of Commerce display along the Causeway with a replacement value of $9,335.

Four lanes of three-foot-high illuminated letters spell out the words:

BALLOONS BUSTED

City Says

'HELLO'

3 Feet High

Decorations for Princess Margaret's visit began going up in the city today.

B.C. government spokesman said the shuffle was ordered to comply with protocol which states the princess must be welcomed first to Canada, second to the province, and thirdly to the municipalities.

As federal cabinet minister representing this area (Esquimalt-Saanich), Gen. Pearkes will speak for the federal government. The Vancouver ceremony was dropped because a municipal welcome could not precede the federal welcome.

SQUABBLE REPORTED

Meanwhile in the east the Toronto Star today carried reports of argument and animosity between the federal and B.C. governments over the royal visit.

Senior government officials denied the story here today.

"Seventeen or 18 Star staff members now staying here have to find something to do," one official stated.

E. Pennington said the Star report was "absolute tripe."

Premier A. C. Bennett said, "The article is ridiculous."

The Star had said B.C. was "sabotaged" by the federal government. It reports B.C. authorities sought to have the Princess visit here for six weeks, and Ottawa curtailed the stay.

"That's completely false," said Premier Bennett.

"There has been no interference by Ottawa, just an exchange of views on the highest plane, in the best of goodwill."

B.C. Centennial chairman L. J. Wallace said, "There has been no trouble to my knowledge."

TOPICS OF THE DAY

The model yacht pool at Dallas and Government, built during ex-Mayor Claude Harrison's administration, was given a special cleaning today. Hot weather increased algae growth and forced the mid-season draining and cleaning after complaints from users. Pool will be back in operation Friday.

A hay bale took off the end of a finger as farmer Douglas Burdige, 33, of 4181 Quadra, worked in his field Wednesday at 3:45 p.m.

Saanich police took the man to St. Joseph's Hospital for emergency treatment. The finger had caught in a chain-drive mechanism.

Twenty Scouts are camping out until next Sunday at Prospect Lake, taking the Silver Arrowhead leadership course.

The boys, aged 14 to 16, are from throughout Greater Victoria.

Course leaders are Glen Oiphant, Wilf Gibson, Andy Mc Gregor and Jack Bendal.

The Scouts in tents, are doing their own cooking and studying rope work, signalling, and aspects of patrol leadership.

Oak trees can be dangerous during this season because dry weather makes their limbs brittle, city parks administrator W. H. Warren said Wednesday.

Several large branches have dropped suddenly from oak trees in parks, one almost causing an accident.

Mr. Warren warned parents to avoid placing children's play equipment under oaks or attaching it to the trees.

The Dickens Fellowship, Victoria branch, will hold its annual garden party at the home of its president, E. F. Waterton, 565 Marfield, James Bay, on Saturday, July 19, at 2:30 p.m.

Members of the Victoria Bahai community, Wednesday, marked the anniversary of the death of the faith's founder, Mirza Ali Muhammad in Persia 108 years ago.

They met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland McGee, 1837 Gonzales. Mrs. McGee is chairman of the assembly.

Muhammad died before a firing squad after alleged persecutions by the civil government.

Harry V. Mills, 78, of 1403 Ryan, is improving at Jubilee Hospital today, the victim of a hit-run accident at Hillside and Cedar Hill Saturday night.

Mr. Mills has broken legs and internal injuries and has been in only fair condition until today.

Police report still no positive trace of a light green pickup truck, or its driver, seen leaving the scene of the accident.

Retirement of deputy minister of highways, Evan S. Jones, was deferred today until September 1, by order-in-council.

Mr. Jones was subject to retirement May 31, 1956, but the cabinet extended his service to June 1, 1957. Later it was extended again to June 1, 1958.

A further three-month extension was approved in the cabinet order today.

Gordon Stanley Inness, Rocky Point road, was fined $250 and remanded to July 18 for probation report on the matter of licence suspension when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to impaired driving Wednesday.

Police said Inness was driving on Esquimalt road at about 6 p.m. when at Tyee the car skidded over a bank, struck a retaining wall and came to rest on its side on property of A. P. Slade (Victoria) Ltd., 95 Esquimalt.

Two days later they will be presented to the Queen following dedication ceremonies for RCAF band concert Monday will be at 3 p.m. in Beacon Hill Park, not Athletic Park as previously announced, the air force said today.

The motorist who tipped the truck off was Laverne M. Sands, 3166 Henderson, police said.

A post office official said the blaze may have been caused by a cigarette dropped by a mail loader, or by inflammable material in the mail.

Delay caused by the fire held up delivery of the undamaged bags to the Vancouver ferry at Nanaimo.

Floyd S. Chalmers, president of Maclean-Hunter publications of Toronto, was a city visitor today.

Police report still no positive trace of a light green pickup truck, or its driver, seen leaving the scene of the accident.

Chief Mungo Martin will wear a ceremonial chilcot blanket and a red cedar bark headband when he is presented to Queen Elizabeth in England July 19.

His grand daughter, Mrs. Helen Hunt, who is being presented with him, will wear an original ceremonial head-band trimmed with ermine, her grandmother's jewels and a pair of moccasins presented to her by the Indian Arts and Welfare Council.

Her wrists will be ornamented with red cedar bark and sea shells.

The chief and Mrs. Hunt also will wear ceremonial robes when they take off for England from Pat Bay Airport next Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Nordin, owners of the Redwood Park and Embassy Court Motels, who have put up $1,000 to pay Chief Mungo's travelling expenses.

The chief and Mrs. Hunt also will wear ceremonial robes when they take off for England from Pat Bay Airport next Tuesday at 9:45 p.m. They will fly to Vancouver, then to Montreal and across the Atlantic to London Airport, arriving July 17.

Two days later they will be presented to the Queen following dedication ceremonies for

B.C. Centennial Committee is paying Mrs. Hunt's expenses.

"Mrs. Nordin also has outfitted Chief Mungo with civilian clothes for the journey," Mrs. Hunt said today. "They have been most generous."

Mrs. Hunt returned to her home at 942 Caledonia today after undergoing treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital.

They will be driven to Pat Bay Airport next Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Nordin, owners of the Redwood Park and Embassy Court Motels, who have put up $1,000 to pay Chief Mungo's travelling expenses.

"I was tired from all the preparations and plans to be made—but I am quite fit now and so looking forward to the trip. Chief Mungo is well, too.

They will leave England by air July 24 arriving back in Victoria at midnight, July 25.

Royal standards normally are not flown above a building unless royal persons enter the premises.

The Princess will not enter City Hall, but city officials are wondering whether the overhead canopy is to be considered as part of the building.

The Dickens Fellowship, Victoria branch, will hold its annual garden party at the home of its president, E. F. Waterton, 565 Marfield, James Bay, on Saturday, July 19, at 2:30 p.m.

He is eager to start the journey."

Mrs. Hunt's 11 children will be well looked after during her absence. The boys are staying with her grandmother while her eldest daughter, Shirley Hunt, will look after the girls.

While in England, they will be invited to visit Oxford University and the university's museum which contains a large collection of West Coast Indian relics.

"I was tired from all the preparations and plans to be made—but I am quite fit now and so looking forward to the trip. Chief Mungo is well, too.

CEREMONY TO HAVE PIONEER LINK

Last Relic of Fort Victoria Marked

A new memorial to Fort Victoria will be unveiled here Friday night. B.C. Historical Association will co-operate with the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada in setting a tablet and pedestal near the corner of Wharf and Fort streets.

The tablet will be close to the old mooring rings, familiar to many residents, adjoining HMCS Malahat, the reserve naval training centre. The mooring rings are the last remaining portion of the old fort, built in 1843.

Mrs. J. D. Helmcken of Na-naimo, a great-granddaughter of an early pioneer, Robert Ker, who came here in 1859, will unveil the memorial.

The ceremony begins at

SHOPPING GUIDE*Enjoy the Royal Visit Using Today's Items!

By PENNY SAVER

I've got royalty on my mind today! Visiting royalty that is, meaning, of course, Her Royal Highness Princess Margaret, who arrives in our fair city shortly. The reason for mentioning the Princess in my column is this: All around me I've heard Victorians exclaim "How can I possibly see her?" or "If it's the last thing I do I'm going to get at least one picture of Her Highness!"

Slow down and think. You're just one in thousands of people who wish to see Princess Margaret.

Binoculars: That's the answer! Doesn't matter how far away you're standing from the scene you'll probably see more than the guy who's in the front row with these binoculars. They're of good quality and feature clear focus on the subject. They're done up in a pigskin case at $9.95.

Mrs. Rayner Opens Fete

Mrs. H. S. Rayner, wife of the Flag Officer of the Pacific Coast, officially opened the garden party held by the Esquimalt Chapter, IODE, in Esquimalt Memorial Park recently.

A sum of $200 was realized from the event which was convened by Mrs. E. R. Russell.

Mrs. J. Bryant, regent of the chapter, received guests. Stalls were convened by Mrs. W. Rothery, Mrs. H. Baker, Mrs. R. Ross, homecooking; Mrs. A. J. McFarlane, Miss A. Ferguson, and Mrs. A. C. Wurtele, white elephant; Mrs. M. Hatch, Mrs. P. Jackson, soft drinks; Mrs. J. A. Reid, Mrs. E. G. Flarell, J. Bryant, W. H. Nicholls, W. Whitehead, games; W. Holder, merry-go-round; J. A. Brown, fish pond; Mrs. C. G. McIntosh, Miss Diane Martin, Pat McMillan, Marilyn Bates.

Tickets were arranged by Mrs. K. Cooper.

Also assisting with the garden-party were Mrs. W. E. Akenhead, Mrs. P. Fecteau, Mrs. W. Rothery, Mrs. J. Corry and Mrs. C. Johnson.

Business and Professional Women Plan Permanent Headquarters

EDMONTON (CP)—With its first national office less than a month old, the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Wednesday took first steps toward preparing for a permanent Ottawa headquarters.

The federation's four-day, 400-delegate convention during its second day, supported finance chairman Norma Tissot's recommendation that estimates for reserve funds include some monies for the federation's own headquarters.

Earlier this month, an Ottawa office with Mrs. Eileen Williamson of Toronto as executive-secretary was opened.

Miss Tissot, from Flin Flon, Man., told delegates from the 7,000-member federation that in the future, it is possible that the federation's national magazine — now publishing six times a year — and other club departments will need to be housed close to the national office.

Praise for the idea but opposition to the timing came from Mrs. Margery Pewtress, Co-bourg, Ont.

Mrs. Pewtress said federation surplus funds now are needed for many things, including a field secretary, and once money is put into a reserve fund it takes an atomic bomb to get it out."

However, Nazla Dane of Toronto and Uria MacLean of Calgary spoke from the convention floor to support Miss Tissot's recommendation.

They urged that the reserve funds for 1958-59 be tabled until the Friday session.

Delegates also urged that press clippings and records of women in public life be carefully kept, and supported a recommendation that such files be kept at the national office.

Garden Party Held as Usual But the Hostess Wasn't There

LONDON (Reuters) — The hostess wasn't at the royal garden party at Buckingham Palace today but 8,000 guests were.

So were some 200 disappointed debutantes from Commonwealth countries who were to have been presented to the Queen before the garden party. Because illness has forced Elizabeth to cancel her engagements, the debutantes curtsied to the Queen Mother instead.

Buckingham Palace announced Wednesday night that the Queen had a better day, with less pain. Her temperature was lower.

The Queen, who cut short a tour of northern England Tuesday because of her latest attack of acute cataract sinusitis, was advised by doctors not to carry out any engagements for the rest of this week.

She is expected to have recovered from her sinus trouble by July 17, when a second group of Commonwealth debutantes is scheduled to be presented.

A palace decision to replace debutante presentation parties with larger gatherings after this year brought so many applications for the last-chance presentation that it was decided to hold a second party.

"Girls from most of the territories are being presented at the first party," a colonial office spokesman said. "But we don't give details because these affairs always cause some jealousy."

The Canadian contingent is split in two, with the 40 who lined up for presentation today and 38 on the 17th, when 29 New Zealanders, 18 Pakistanis and 30 South Africans also will be presented.

The Duke of Edinburgh also missed the party. He is in Brussels at the International Trade Fair.

NOW oven-fresh flavor and crispness sealed in!

The flavor's all there—sunny wheat flavor in every crisp, deliciously toasted biscuit—thanks to the protective TRIPAK inner wrap!

Handy to serve, too. Just unseal each of the four convenient TRIPAK envelopes as you need them. The rest of the nutritious Nabisco Shredded Wheat biscuits stay deliciously flavor-fresh!

The dinnerware displayed is Nabisco's exclusive "Springtime" pattern. See Nabisco Shredded Wheat package for details of offer.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Sacroiliac trouble can be extremely painful and incapacitating. Women seem to be more subject to it than men, perhaps because child bearing may have weakened some of the ligaments. Sometimes this trouble descends suddenly after lifting some heavy object or undergoing some sort of physical strain.

When you have this difficulty you must be very careful about exercise. Some is most damaging. However, there are special exercises which will greatly improve sacroiliac trouble and sometimes get rid of it altogether. I have had several pupils who used these exercises constantly and were relieved of the pain of the past.

Every once in a while I like to repeat them in this column for

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Guest list for shower.

The daughter of a very dear friend is about to be married and I would like to give a shower for her. I know only two of three of the girl's friends. Do I ask her for a list of names, then invite strangers into my home? Failing that, what sort of a party should I give for her?

Louise Davis answers:

Even though you invite strangers to your home, you can consider them as recommends, for "A friend of yours is a friend of mine," as the saying goes. Ask the bride or her mother for a list. Chances are that you will be meeting some of these young people anyway before long, so there is no reason for being hesitant in asking people whom you don't know. When giving a shower, one word of advice is to invite only those who are friends of the bride-elect. One doesn't impose gift obligations on those who aren't close friends of the guest of honor. Of course, you can entertain in various ways without giving a shower, such as a tea or luncheon. Too much importance is often given a shower when a bride goes home gloating over her array of gifts, thus minimizing the real purpose of the social gathering. If you entertain with a showerless party, the sky is the limit as to your guest list. You can even ask some of your own friends who are total strangers of the bride, for you would be giving your party "to meet Miss Julia Hill."

Fill Marked For Proposed Gyros' Park

Cheap fill from a projected
Saanich sewage development in the Cadboro Bay area will be used to reclaim swamp land in the Gyro Club of Victoria's Cadboro-Gyro Park.

Tentative plans for the development were made Tuesday night at a meeting between the Saanich council's parks committee and members of the Gyro
club.

It is understood that no definite decision can be reached until permission is received from residents affected by the sewer project to go ahead with it.

Tentative plans for the 10-acre public park include a picnic area, salt-water swimming pool,
a boat launching ramp, and ample parking space.

The entertainment program, rounding out summer studies, will include the evening performances: Spanish and Latin American dances by Teresita and Emilio Osta, July 16; University of Washington madrigal singers, July 25; three-winning plays at the 1958 Southern Vantheir seven-weeks' course wiser, richer and fitter.

They are among 800 cadets
from throughout B.C. and Alberta who started training this week in leadership, as drivers,
infantry signallers, rifle coaches, bandmen and master cadets.

Each cadet successfully completing the course receives a bonus of $100. Well-regulated sleeping hours and a balanced diet is reflected each year in weight-gained.

Average is 10 pounds per cadet.

Education, Fun Too At Summer School

Education and entertainment will go hand in hand at Victoria College summer school session for teachers.

Four evening and four noon-hour events have been scheduled, beginning July 16. The public can attend the noon-hour performances free and the evening events for a charge of 50¢.

Enrolment in university credit courses this session reached 528 when registrations closed Monday night.

Six courses, including three in education, were full up by Saturday when enrollment reached a total of 475. About 100 enrolled in non-credit courses and approximately 50 in a refresher course for teachers.

THE COLONY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA IS CREATED AT FORT LANGLEY IN 1858

Vancouver Island, as we have seen, had been made a British colony in 1849 and when the gold rush took place on the Fraser River Sir James Douglas was governor only of Vancouver Island. However, as chief factor of the Hudson's Bay Company he seemed to be the only person who had any authority to deal with the Fraser River miners, and without waiting for any further authority from the British government he took steps very quickly to keep law and order there and even required the miners to take out licences. Finally, in 1858, the British government solved the question of who had authority over the miners by creating the Colony of British Columbia which was to take in all of what is today our province except Vancouver Island. Sir James Douglas was named governor over British Columbia. He was thus governor at the same time over two colonies, Vancouver Island and British Columbia.

Here we see the ceremony which took place at Fort Langley, our first capital, when on Nov. 19, 1858, with about a hundred persons present, Mathew Begbie, the newly-appointed judge for British Columbia, read the Queen's Commission appointing Douglas governor. Then Douglas read the commission appointing Begbie as judge. At the same time the Hudson's Bay Company had to give up its exclusive trading rights in British Columbia.

SCHOONER BUFFETED BY PACIFIC

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — A 37-foot schooner, the Tahoe, limped into harbor Wednesday after buffeting the high-seas for 6,000 miles across the Pacific from Vancouver.

The schooner, sailed by Sydney yachtman Reginald Blake and a companion, lost its two jibs and a mainsail and was almost wrecked in a storm one day out of Auckland. On arrival a few oranges was the only food on board.

Blake purchased the Tahoe in Vancouver last year.

It is hard to see the mantis among the green foliage where she rests. The gauzy green wings over the lower part of her body look like a taffeta skirt. She appears to be kneeling, with bowed head, hands and arms folded in prayer. Actually, she is waiting to pounce.

Her red eyes are scanning the scenery, and she hopes that some other insect will mistake her for harmless leaves and twigs. She is in ambush, the folding front legs held ready to grab her prey.

This beautiful insect looks like a lady saying her prayers. Nothing could be further from the truth. A name more suitable to her character would be the praying mantis. For she preys on other insects and, at times, is even a cannibal. To the insect world she is a menace. But to us, she is a friend. For she downs quantities of the pesky insects that attack our crops and gardens.

In some insect books you will find the mantis listed as a mantid. This is because she is classed in the insect family Mantidae. Both mantis and mantid are coined from an older word meaning prophet or holy man.

The praying mantis is a large, green insect three and one-half inches long. She stands on long, spindly legs, with the lanky upper part of her body held erect. The two front legs at shoulder level are thick and clawed. They are held folded, bent at wrists and elbows. The head of the mantis, with its

Merchant Navy Urged by Labor

Appeal for a Canadian Merchant Navy is made in a letter to Defence Minister George Pearkes sent Wednesday by Victoria Labor Council.

The letter, signed by secretary-treasurer A. W. Toone, points out the "severe decrease" in employment at local shipyards, mentioning that the work force at Yarrows Ltd., already reduced considerably from the total at this time last year, will be cut from the present 380 men to approximately 150 in the next two to three weeks.

Employment will maintain a steady drift down for the remainder of this year," the letter continues, "with little or no prospects of future work coming in."

The council notes that "our neighbors to the south have instigated a ship-building program which will create a great deal of employment" and says "no less should be done for Canada."

EMPLOYMENT ACTION

The council also sent letters to Mayor Percy Scurll and Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

It asked the mayor and city aldermen to "take some action to reach a solution" to unemployment, adding, "It must be acknowledged that this problem is no longer a seasonal one and that if some action is taken now before the onslaught of winter unemployment, it would be of greater value than if taken at a later date."

The council letters ask the city to request the provincial government to take action to convene a broad conference of the government, municipalities, local civic bodies, business groups and labor unions "to thoroughly explore the whole field of unemployment."

RESEARCH RESULTS

In its letter to the premier, the council asks when recommendations on unemployment made by a research council from the select standing committee on unemployment will be brought down—or, if they have already been brought down, when they will be made known.

The letters stem from suggestions and recommendations made by delegates to the council's meeting July 2.

PORLAND CRAFT HERE

Second Honeymoon For U.S. Yachtsman

Four sleek motor yachts from Portland, Oregon, anchored in Victoria's Inner Harbor Wednesday.

One of them, The Rambler, is owned by Lawrence Barber, marine editor of The Oregonian, who spent his honeymoon at the Empress Hotel 29 years ago this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Barber called on Publicity Commissioner George I. Warren, who showed them around the city during their first visit in 1929.

"I hardly dared hope Mr. Warren was still at his desk after all this time," Mr. Barber said. "but there he was, as large as life and as active as ever."

Mr. Barber himself has a considerable long-service record. He has worked for The Oregonian 32 years—25 of them as managing editor.

Parley Broken Off Says CPR Chief

OTTAWA (CP) — Government-sponsored negotiations for settlement of the CPR west coast steamship tieup collapsed late today.

"It's broken off," CPR President N. R. Crump said after a meeting with Labor Minister Starr and officials of the striking Seafarers' International Union (CLC), which has tied up the company's British Columbia fleet since May 16.

Mr. Crump said he did not know when a further meeting might be held.

"The rest is up to the minister," he said.

FINAL ★★★★ BULLETINS

Burnaby Bank Robbed By Lone Bandit

VANCOUVER (CP) — A lone bandit held up a Bank of Nova Scotia branch in suburban Burnaby during the noon hour today. The amount taken was not immediately known.

Police reported the man escaped in an automobile following the holdup and that the car was last seen speeding toward Vancouver.

U.S. Wins First Davis Cup Match

TORONTO (CP) — Big Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, the key man in the United States' Davis Cup hopes, easily defeated Don Fontana 6-1, 6-2, 7-5 today to give the U.S. a 1-0 lead over Canada in their North American semi-final round. Rain washed out the second singles match of the opening day's program between Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., and Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif. It will be played Friday.

'Mighty Mouse' Rocket Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Hopes of recovering a vital nose cone and its mouse passenger alive after an inter-continental ballistic missile flight through space appeared to be waning today.

There still was a chance, however, that the launching vehicle became the first U.S. ballistic weapon to travel 6,000 miles or more.

Some 15 hours after the powerful Thor-Able rocket blasted away on a spectacular launching, there was no report on the progress of the nose cone recovery operation.

A spokesman close to the project said "it doesn't look too good now."

He said ships were searching for the highly-secret nose cone somewhere in waters off Ascension Island, 1,000 miles from the African coast.

The flight lasted only about 30 minutes.

Officials here at first appeared to be optimistic that the

Top-Level Defence Link Formed, Arctic Inspection Plan Mapped

U.S.-Canada Cabinet Committee

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and the United States today agreed to establish a joint cabinet committee on continental defence to strengthen the military effort of the two countries.

Agreement was reached between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker in a 30-minute morning conference in Mr. Diefenbaker's office on Parliament Hill.

The statement issued by the two leaders said the new cabinet body will supplement in a "supervisory capacity" but not supplant existing joint committees and boards, such as the long-established joint defence board, comprised of permanent officials of the two countries.

Briefing officers said no decision has been taken yet as to where or when the first meeting of the new committee will be held.

SIX MEMBERS

It will consist of six cabinet members, three from each government. Other members can be added as requested from time to time by the existing members.

On the Canadian side there will be External Affairs Minister Smith, Defence Minister Pearkes and Finance Minister Fleming. On the American side will be State Secretary Dulles, Defence Secretary McElroy and Treasury Secretary Anderson.

The meetings will alternate between Ottawa and Washington.

Mr. Smith will chair meetings in Ottawa, Mr. Dulles in Washington.

The procedure will therefore be similar to that of the Canada-U.S. joint trade and economic committee which has held sessions in the two capitals about once a year. It last met in Washington last fall.

The statement said the two leaders "have taken note of the intimate co-operation which exists between their governments."

IKE GOLFS TO RELAX, RETURNS HOME FRIDAY

OTTAWA — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker held their last formal get-together this morning before the president ends his three-day visit Friday.

They were expected to meet privately tonight, however, at a dinner at the U.S. Embassy residence.

The president headed for the golf course this afternoon. He had perfect weather for his game at the Ottawa Hunt Club with Transport Minister George Hees, Senate Speaker Marc Drouin, and club president John A. Cross.

In a sharp exchange with Opposition Leader Pearson, Mr. Diefenbaker said in the Commons he will make a full statement Friday on his talks with President Eisenhower.

This statement will show, he said, that there will be no interference with Canadian subsidiaries insofar as entering contracts with other countries on goods not considered strategic.

Mr. Pearson requested clarification of the agreement between Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Eisenhower that the two governments would consult on differences in Canadian-American export policy and find appropriate measures for reaching satisfactory solutions.

ASKS RELATION

Mr. Pearson wanted to know how this statement was related to one reported to have been issued by Finance Minister Fleming that the intent of the agreement is that only Canadian law will apply on persons and corporations doing business in Canada.

Mr. Fleming said he didn't issue any statement. Mr. Pearson then read a statement by James Nelson, Mr. Diefenbaker's press secretary, quoting Mr. Fleming.

Big Ice Chunks Churn Up Water

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Three persons were reported dead and two missing today from a major earthquake that struck southeastern Alaska and the Yukon Wednesday night.

The report of the three killed came from the fishing village of Yakutat, on the Gulf of Alaska about 200 miles northwest of here.

The victims were listed as Mrs. Jean Welsh Walton, head of a family which owns the Icy Straits Cannery at Yakutat, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tibbles, employees of the Civil Aeronautics Administration station there.

The three were reported to have died when about 500 yards of the south end of Khatka Island rose about 20 feet at the height of the quake and then fell into Yakutat Bay. They were believed to have come to the island berry picking.

The missing couple was identified as Mr. and Mrs. Orville Wagner of Elgin Cove, near Juneau, who were aboard their 55-foot fishing troller Sunmore when it was swept by huge waves out of Lituya Bay, on the gulf 125 miles west of here.

ROME — A prosecutor's notice of appeal today delayed annulment of the marriage of Ingrid Bergman and Robert Rossellini.

The presiding judge of Rome's First Section court announced today that the court had annulled the eight-year marriage of the Swedish film star and the Italian movie director.

But Judge Mario Elia said the public prosecutor has announced intention to seal the decision and it will not become final until the appeal is heard. That could take at least a year.

DETROIT — Service station operator James Hill said a man carrying a rifle walked into his station Wednesday night. "He told me & put the money on the counter, so I put out $160."

Hill said the gunman told him, "I only want $47. Count it out."

Hill counted out $47 and gave it to the man who said, as he left, "I only need $47 and that's all I'm taking. I hope you understand I need it desperately."

MOSCOW — A member of the Communist Youth League was rebuked Wednesday for suggesting young people "wear what clothing we like even if it does look Western."

A young comrade from Stalinsk wrote to Komsomolskaya Pravda saying that drainpipe trousers, padded shoulders and crepe shoes did not necessarily mean the wearer is a hooligan or stilagi—the Soviet equivalent of a zoot suiter.

But Komsomolskaya Pravda declared:

"Sometimes only a thread separates the wearing of a foreign shirt and something much more sinister."

"Those who wear foreign clothes slavishly copy not only fashion but the morality and way of life of the bourgeois West."

NEW YORK — Singer Paul Robeson, making quick use of his newly reinstated passport, flew to London today to begin his first European concert tour in more than 20 years.

For years Robeson was denied a passport because he refused to sign an anti-Communist affidavit. Last month, however, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that Congress had not authorized the State Department to withhold passports on such grounds.

BOATS HUDDLED UP

Fishing boats in Cross Sound and the Icy Strait area were operating normally today but those in outside waters were clustered together, apparently waiting to see if the tremors had subsided entirely.

Whether any other boats were damaged or missing was not known immediately because of poor communications with outlying coastal points.

Associated Press staffer William J. Tobin, telephoning a report to Seattle shortly before 2 a.m. today, said the tremors were continuing steadily. "The building is shaking right now and it sure gives you an awkward feeling," Tobin said.

A tidal wave alert was issued throughout the Hawaiian Islands, apparently the result of the Alaska quake.

CONTINUES FOR HOURS

Dr. Charles Richter of the California Institute of Technology Seismological Laboratory at Pasadena, said that had the quake occurred in a populated area it would have caused a disaster.

The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey office at Sitka, 100 miles southwest of Juneau, timed the first sharp jolt at 10:17 p.m. Minutes later there were two sharp aftershocks and the ground quivered off and on for hours later.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's main Alaska communications cable was cut at Lena Point, just north of Juneau and communications to cities north of there were temporarily cut off.

3 U.K. BOMBERS SHOT DOWN, YEMEN CLAIMS,

CAIRO, Egypt (Reuters) — The Yemeni legation here said today three British bombers were shot down in the Harib area near the border between the Aden protectorate and Yemen.

An official statement issued in Aden Wednesday said a British jet fighter was shot down Tuesday, killing its pilot, a few yards inside the Yemen frontier near Harib.

A reply was fired by navy guns from Signal Hill. When Bennington was just off Flasgard light, the RCN guns again fired 13 times, this time honoring the flag of Rear Admiral R. S. Clarke, which Bennington wears. Admiral Clarke is commander of carrier division five.

Bennington returned the salute to honor Rear Admiral H. S. Rayner, Flag Officer, Pacific Coast.

The next time her guns are fired it will be as part of a four-ship team firing the 21-gun Royal salute for Princess Margaret during the review Tuesday.

COLUMBIA POWER TALKS

OTTAWA (CP) — U.S. State Secretary Dulles and Canada's External Affairs Minister Smith met this afternoon to cover in greater detail the problems brought out by the Eisenhower-Diefenbaker goodwill talks here.

There were indications the Columbia River power problem might be among matters discussed.

DIDN'T KNOW

The briefing officers said they did not know.

Mr. Hagerty said the committee members would report directly to the president and the prime minister with the recommendations and suggestions in the defence field.

He said discussion of the cabinet committee agreement and the drafting of the official announcement took up most of today's final working session of the two leaders.

Both presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty and the prime minister's press secretary, James Nelson, said the two leaders felt the key point of their decision was that it would bring military matters more closely under civilian guidance.

Reporters asked whether the agreement meant that RCAF aircraft cooperating with the U.S. Air Force in the joint aerial defence of the North American continent now would be equipped with atomic weapons.

The newspaper said in a front-page statement, signed by Publisher Gerard Filion, that it retracts none of the declarations it has made in a series of articles critical of the provincial gas transaction.

"... We maintain all that we have affirmed, we retract nothing and we are ready to defend ourselves before the courts."

Queen Still Confined to Bed; Plans Yacht Cruise in August

LONDON (CP) — The Queen, suffering from an acute sinus attack, will take a cruise aboard the royal yacht Britannia next month and then rest for a while at Balmoral Castle, the royal residence in Scotland.

A palace statement issued said the Queen, Prince Philip and their children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, will cruise off the west coast of Britain for 12 days starting Aug. 8, and then go to Balmoral. There was no indication of how long the royal family would stay at Balmoral.

The cruise and holiday apparently was decided on to let the Queen escape for a while from her continual wearying rounds of official duties.

It would also take her away from the summer's dust and pollen, suggested as one of the possible causes of her latest attack. She has suffered five severe colds during the last year.

The Queen was still confined to bed today after being examined by three doctors.

The Queen cut short a trip to Scotland and returned to London after the sinus trouble gripped her Tuesday.

ACTION VALE, Que. (CP) — for a royal commission of inquiry into the sale of Quebec Hydro's gas distribution facilities to the gas corporation.

The request followed a series of articles published by the Montreal newspaper Le Devoir which said a $20,000,000 stock market coup marked the gas sale.

Le Devoir named seven cabinet ministers, one former cabinet minister now lieutenant-governor of the province, and Premier Duplessis' private secretary among shareholders of former shareholders of the corporation.

Mr. Lesage referred to an announcement in Trois-Rivières Wednesday by Jean Methot, counsel for Premier Duplessis, that legal notice was being sent to the Montreal daily demanding that it retract declarations made against the premier personally in the series of articles.

The newspaper said in a front-page statement, signed by Publisher Gerard Filion, that it retracts none of the declarations it has made in a series of articles critical of the provincial gas transaction.

U.S.-Canada Cabinet Committee

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and the United States today agreed to establish a joint cabinet committee on continental defence to strengthen the military effort of the two countries.

Agreement was reached between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker held their last formal get-together this morning before the president ends his three-day visit Friday.

They were expected to meet privately tonight, however, at a dinner at the U.S. Embassy residence.

The president headed for the golf course this afternoon.

He had perfect weather for his game at the Ottawa Hunt Club with Transport Minister George Hees, Senate Speaker Marc Drouin, and club president John A. Cross.

Red China Trade Go-Ahead Hinted

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated today the United States has agreed to allow Canadian subsidiaries of American firms to do business with Communist China in non-strategic goods.

In a sharp exchange with Opposition Leader Pearson, Mr. Diefenbaker said in the Commons he will make a full statement Friday on his talks with President Eisenhower.

This statement will show, he said, that there will be no interference with Canadian subsidiaries insofar as entering contracts with other countries on goods not considered strategic.

Mr. Pearson requested clarification of the agreement between Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Eisenhower that the two governments would consult on differences in Canadian-American export policy and find appropriate measures for reaching satisfactory solutions.

ASKS RELATION
Mr. Pearson wanted to know how this statement was related to one reported to have been issued by Finance Minister Fleming that the intent of the agreement is that only Canadian law will apply on persons and corporations doing business in Canada.

Mr. Fleming said he didn't issue any statement. Mr. Pearson then read a statement by James Nelson, Mr. Diefenbaker's press secretary, quoting Mr. Fleming.

New U.S. Drug Kills Deadly Golden Staph

NEW YORK (UPI)—Successful experimental use of a new antibiotic drug which will kill germs resistant to penicillin was announced today at a conference sponsored by the New York Academy of Sciences.

The drug, Kanamycin, is reported to be effective against strains of staphylococcus aureus ("golden staph"), the germ most frequently involved in hospital epidemics of antibiotic-resistant germs.

It also has killed germs which cause such diseases as anthrax, tuberculosis, leprosy and gastrointestinal disorders, the report said.

Rain May Greet Princess

Cloudy skies and even the possibility of light rain were foreseen today as likely to welcome Princess Margaret on her arrival in Victoria Saturday.

"A weak storm is developing in the Gulf of Alaska, and it will be felt in the northern part of the province Friday night. Its effect will be felt here by early Saturday. Although rain is only a possibility, it will be cloudy and cooler by Saturday afternoon."

Temperature will range between 54 and 68 degrees tonight and Friday, and winds Friday afternoon will be southwesterly at up to 20 miles per hour.

ROME — A prosecutor's notice of appeal today delayed annulment of the marriage of Ingrid Bergman and Robert Rossellini.

The presiding judge of Rome's First Section court announced today that the court had annulled the eight-year marriage of the Swedish film star and the Italian movie director.

But Judge Mario Elia said the public prosecutor has announced intention to seal the decision and it will not become final until the appeal is heard. That could take at least a year.

DETROIT — Service station operator James Hill said a man carrying a rifle walked into his station Wednesday night. "He told me to put the money on the counter, so I put out $160."

Hill said the gunman told him, "I only want $47. Count it out."

Hill counted out $47 and gave it to the man who said, as he left, "I only need $47 and that's all I'm taking. I hope you understand I need it desperately."

MOSCOW — A member of the Communist Youth League was rebuked Sunday for suggesting young people "wear what clothing we like even if it does look Western."

A young comrade from Stalin's wrote to Komsomolskaya Pravda saying that drainpipe trousers, padded shoulders and crepe shoes did not necessarily mean the wearer is a hooligan or still-yagi—the Soviet equivalent of a zoot suiter.

But Komsomolskaya Pravda declared:

"Sometimes only a thread separates the wearing of a foreign shirt and something much more sinister."

"Those who wear foreign clothes slavishly copy not only fashion but the morality and way of life of the bourgeois West."

NEW YORK — Singer Paul Robeson, making quick use of his newly reinstated passport, flies to London today to begin his first European concert tour in more than 20 years.

For years Robeson was denied a passport because he refused to sign an anti-Communist affidavit. Last month, however, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that Congress had not authorized the State Department to withhold passports on such grounds.

'Rally Esquimalt' To See Princess

Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele today called for a mass turnout of residents to welcome Princess Margaret when she drives through that centre Tuesday, just after 5 p.m.

FOR MARGARET Non-Union Brooch Protested

VANCOUVER (CP) — Presentation by the B.C. Centennial Committee of a non-union-made brooch to Princess Margaret is being protested by the Vancouver Jewelry Workers' Union.

A union spokesman said Wednesday the floral brooch was made in a non-union shop and that many of the union shops had no opportunity to bid on the brooch contract.

The union has lodged a protest with the centennial committee. Vancouver officials said the protest has been forwarded to headquarters in Victoria for consideration.

"If the presentation was made by a public body in Great Britain the brooch would certainly be union made," the union spokesman said.

Don't Snap Too Close Or Police Will Bark

Don't dash close to the royal car for a close-up snap of Princess Margaret.

"If you rush out, you will be dealt with severely," police have warned.

This is just one of the security measures to be enforced during the visit of Princess Margaret. RCMP and Victoria district police will share in 24-hour guard duties.

Much of their work will be done without public knowledge that the police umbrella is in operation. At other times, the guard will be obvious.

Two Victoria motorcycle police will precede the royal cars on any drives through Victoria. Behind them will be a car of RCMP officials. The royal car will be second in line, flanked by two RCMP motorcycles.

Other motorcycle escorts will dash further ahead to close intersections to cross traffic. Drivers and passengers in cars

A THREE-MONTH TRIP to Singapore and the East will be made July 20 by Victoria-born Professor Leslie Wong of the University of B.C. commerce faculty. Professor Wong will advise officials of the University of Malaya on the establishment of a faculty of commerce. He is scheduled to visit the University of Tokyo en route.

Returning from a royal review of Canadian, British and U.S. ships, the princess will land at HMC Dockyard.

The royal entourage will leave dockyard in cars just after 5 p.m. and will proceed to Empress Hotel via Esquimalt Road, Johnson Street Bridge, Johnson Street, Douglas, Belleville.

Reeve Wurtele said the royal party will slow wherever there is a gathering of people along the route.

This is an excellent opportunity for people of Esquimalt to see the Princess. I hope our residents will line the roadway," the reeve added.

Fire Hazard Closes Nova Scotia Forests

HALIFAX (CP) — Forest Minister Levy announced Wednesday that Nova Scotia forests will be closed for an indefinite period. Mr. Levy said in a statement most wooded areas are "tinder-dry" and rain appeared sufficient to reduce the fire hazard only in "one or two isolated areas."

Everything Stays Up in Air Until Princess Drives Off

Commercial aircraft traffic at Patricia Bay Airport will be interrupted while the royal plane bringing Princess Margaret lands for welcoming ceremonies Saturday at 10 a.m. Local Trans-Canada Air Lines manager Wallace Courtney said while all arrangements are not firm, he expects schedules will not be delayed "more than half an hour."

If any aircraft appear over the airport during the welcoming, it is expected they will be required to remain circling and avoid landing until the royal party departs.

Mr. Courtney said his office will arrange some measure of traffic direction for cars and of the vital waterway.

STRATEGIC AREA

The Panama Canal Zone owned by the United States covers five miles on each side of the roadway through the airport property.

WCB PENSIONS CLAIMED 'WOEFULLY INADEQUATE'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver city council has asked the Union of B.C. Municipalities to seek bigger Workmen's Compensation Board payments to families of people killed in industrial accidents.

Aldeghian Evelyn Caldwell described the payments of $75 a month to a widow of a fatally injured worker, and $25 a month to each of his children, as "woefully inadequate."

When does an efficiency expert cease to be efficient?

Dr. Burke Sheeran, a U.S. Army efficiency expert, now visiting Victoria, gives this example of inefficient efficiency:

The expert in a San Francisco office noted that a girl clerk made 20 trips a day from her desk to a filing cabinet in the corner of the room, thereby wasting one hour of the firm's precious time.

He therefore had the cabinet placed next to her desk so that she need not move all day. The result? A nervous breakdown. The girl could not stand the pressure of her work without those little trips to the cabinet in the corner.

Dr. Sheeran is attached to the Army Ordnance Corps at Benicia, California.

Knowing how Englishmen love to grouse about the weather, I was not surprised to hear a member of the Royal Marine Band from Kent, England, complaining: "This place is too hot for white men."

Yet who was it said mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the noonday sun?

Dr. Gordon Shrum, the University of British Columbia's leading pundit, tells this story of a young woman who was charged in Vancouver with street walking:

"I cannot understand it," the magistrate said. "Your father a respectable gentleman in the pulp and paper business; your brother a leading barrister. How could it be you were walking the streets?"

To which the young woman replied:

"I guess I was just born lucky."

"The English humor is so dry it almost ceases to be humor," writes Mrs. G. R. Hughes, a native of Saanich, from her temporary home at Chelmsford, Essex, England.

They don't laugh, as we do, at things which look funny. They laugh at frustration, inconvenience, misfortune and all the things that would make the average Canadian blow his top...

"They are the strangest people."

Carousing Crew Smashes in Car, Helmsman Fined

One of four sailors whose car went adrift and into a pole on Gorge Road early today was fined $120 in city police court on pleading guilty to driving while under suspension, careless driving and being drunk in public.

Police said three of the rollicking quartet, which included three British seamen from HMS Newcastle, were found half-asleep lounging in deck chairs around the swimming pool of a motor court next door to their abandoned car.

The fourth man, from New Castle, turned up in a taxi while police were investigating the incident.

Alex N. Lockwood, RCN, appeared in city police court this morning. He had no explanation for the accident.

According to police an old model car was reported abandoned in bushes of a vacant lot on Gorge. No one was about at the time, 4:55 a.m.

Investigation showed the car had gone out of control as it went east on Gorge and struck the pole near Albany, went over the boulevard and into the lot with about $150 damage.

Lockwood was fined $75 for driving under suspension, $35 for careless driving and $10 for being drunk.

TRAFFIC FINES

In Colwood RCMP court to-day:

Ralph Simms, Mill Bay, $50 and $6.50 costs for careless driving.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

The model yacht pool at Dallas and Government, built during ex-Mayor Claude Harrison's administration, was given a special cleaning today. Hot weather increased algae growth and forced the mid-season draining and cleaning after complaints from users. Pool will be back in operation Friday.

A hay bale took off the end of a finger as farmer Douglas Burdge, 33, of 4181 Quadra, worked in his field Wednesday at 3:45 p.m.

Saanich police took the man to St. Joseph's Hospital for emergency treatment. The farmer had caught in a chain-drive mechanism.

Twenty Scouts are camping out until next Sunday at Prospect Lake, taking the Silver Arrowhead leadership course.

The boys, aged 14 to 16, are from throughout Greater Victoria.

Court leaders are Glen Oliphant, Wilf Gibson, Andy McGregor and Jack Benda.

The Scouts, in tents, are doing their own cooking and studying rope work, signalling, and aspects of patrol leadership.

Oak trees can be dangerous during this season because dry weather makes their limbs brittle, city parks administrator W.H. Warren said Wednesday. Several large branches have dropped suddenly from oak trees in parks, one almost causing an accident.

Mr. Warren warned parents to avoid placing children's play equipment under oaks or attaching it to the trees.

The Dickens Fellowship, Victoria branch, will hold its annual garden party at the home of its president, E. F. Wetherston, 565 Marfield, James Bay, on Saturday, July 19, at 2:30 p.m.

Members of the Victoria Bahai community Wednesday marked the anniversary of the death of the faith's founder, Mirza Ali Muhammad in Persia 108 years ago.

They met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland McGee, 1837 Gonzales. Mrs. McGee is chairman of the assembly.

Muhammad died before a firing squad after alleged persecutions by the civil governments.

Harry V. Mills, 78, of 1403 Ryan, is improving at Jubilee Hospital today, the victim of a hit-run accident at Hillside and Cedar Hill Saturday night.

Mr. Mills has broken legs and internal injuries and has been in only fair condition until today.

Police report still no positive trace of a light green pickup truck, or its driver, seen leaving the scene of the accident.

Retirement of deputy minister of highways, Evan S. Jones, was deferred today until September 1, by order-in-council.

Mr. Jones was subject to retirement May 31, 1956, but the cabinet extended his service to June 1, 1957. Later it was extended again to June 1, 1958.

A further three-month extension was approved in the cabinet order today.

Gordon Stanley Inness, Rocky Point road, was fined $250 and remanded to July 18 for probation report on the matter of licence suspension when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to impaired driving Wednesday.

Police said Inness was driving on Esquimalt road at about 6 p.m. when at Tyee the car skidded over a sidewalk, struck a retaining wall and came to rest on its side on property of A.P. Slade (Victoria) Ltd., 35 Esquimalt.

The chief and Mrs. Hunt also will wear ceremonial robes when they take off for England from Pat Bay Airport next Tuesday at 9:45 p.m. They will fly to Vancouver, then to Montreal and across the Atlantic to London Airport, arriving July 17.

Last Relic of Fort Victoria Marked

A new memorial to Fort Victoria will be unveiled here Friday night.

B.C. Historical Association will co-operate with the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada in setting a tablet and pedestal near the corner of Wharf and Fort streets.

The tablet will be close to the old mooring rings, familiar to many residents, adjoining HMCS Malahat, the reserve naval training centre. The mooring rings are the last remaining portion of the old fort, built in 1843.

Mrs. J. D. Helmcken of Na-

naimo, a great-granddaughter of an early pioneer, Robert Ker, who came here in 1859, will unveil the memorial.

The ceremony begins at

Court Quashes Taxes On City's Lake Lands

Saanich Defeat Hailed by Mayor

Mayor Percy Scurrall today hailed a B.C. Supreme Court decision exempting city-owned Elk and Beaver lakes property from Saanich taxes "as a welcome settlement of a dispute that has been dragging on for years."

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane Wednesday afternoon handed down a judgment upholding the city's claim that the lakes are exempt from taxation under the Victoria Waterworks Act of 1873.

He also ruled that a Saanich sale in 1955 of 82 acres of the property was invalid.

Saanich acting reeve George Austin declined to comment on the judgment but said his council will decide whether an appeal will be launched.

City Engineer J. C. Garnett commented today that the lakes are still being used as a water supply for Patricia Bay and their use may be extended in the future to other parts of Central Saanich.

CITY HEARD

At the trial, he testified that the city had to retain control of all the lake property in order to control sources of pollution.

Mayor Scurrall commented:

"We thought our position was sound, and naturally we are pleased that the court has given a decision in our favor."

"I'm glad to see the end of this headache. It's been dragging on for years."

Saanich will pay costs of the trial under the judgment. The amount is still to be fixed.

REFUSED TO PAY

The city refused to pay the taxes and three years later Saanich sold the property for non-payment. However, the city redressed the property after the sale by paying the $1,000 tax bill.

When Saanich billed the city for the following year's taxes, the city went to court. The trial was held last May.

SHOPPING GUIDE*Enjoy the Royal Visit Using Today's Items!

By PENNY SAVER

I've got royalty on my mind today! Visiting royalty is... meaning, of course, Her Royal Highness Princess Margaret, who arrives in our fair city shortly. The reason for mentioning the Princess in my column is this: All around me I've heard Victorians exclaim "How can I possibly see her?" or "If it's the last thing I do I'm going to get at least one picture of Her Highness!"

Slow down and think. You're just one in thousands of people who wish to see Princess Margaret.

Binoculars! That's the answer! Doesn't matter how far away is a camera that will be away from you're standing from a dream to own all year around scene you'll probably see more and for any occasion! It takes than the guy who's in the front color or black and white prints row with these binoculars. They're of good quality and feature clear focus on the subject. They're done up in a pig-skin case at $9.95.

Mrs. Rayner Opens Fete

Mrs. H. S. Rayner, wife of the Flag Office of the Pacific Coast, officially opened the garden party held by the Esquimalt Chapter, IODE, in Esquimalt Memorial Park recently.

A sum of $200 was realized from the event which was convened by Mrs. E. R. Russell.

Mrs. J. Bryant, regent of the chapter, received guests. Stalls were convened by Mrs. W. Rothery, Mrs. H. Baker, Mrs. R. Ross, homecooking; Mrs. A. J. McFarlane, Miss A. Ferguson and Mrs. A. C. President's Wife Slimmer

Ottawa (CP)—Mrs. Eisenhower has arrived in Ottawa with a new look.

She is 10 pounds slimmer than she was last winter and has made a slight concession to the "new look" by wearing colored hose.

However, she continues to shun the "sack look" for the more easy to wear natural-line.

The wife of the United States president on arrival here for a state visit was greeted and presented with a bouquet of white orchids by Olive Diefenbaker, wife of Canada's prime minister.

Mamie Eisenhower wore a two-piece fitted suit of black silk flecked with small white flowers. She wore a tiny white hat and black accessories, including black-toned stockings.

Later at Government House, the governor-general's residence, she removed the suit top and wore only the cool-looking square-necked dress.

Mrs. Diefenbaker wore a beige linen suit with a bloused effect at the back, and a tiny tam covered with creamy petals and trimmed with brown velvet.

Three months ago Mrs. Eisenhower spent several days taking beauty refresher course at a secluded Arizona resort called Main Chance. The effects are noticeable.

She is 10 pounds slimmer and is wearing her hair shorter. The familiar "Mamie bangs" remain but her hair is combed back from her face and upwards.

Long hours of standing in the hot sun are going to be in store for most Victorians in the next few days! Why? Well standing to catch a glimpse of the lovely Princess of course! Don't suffer the trials and tribulations of waiting on foot, buy one of these wee aluminum folding seats. They're of canvas with light metal legs for easy carrying and packing. The price is low. It's only $1.95 a seat!

Phone me at 2-3131 if you're planning to enjoy the next week. I can tell you where I found these items!

Canadian Food Most Impressive

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Food is the most impressive thing about Canada, says Dorothy A. Marshall, 22, of Stranraer, Scotland.

She is on a three-month visit to Canada to study farm life, as a delegate from the Scottish Association of Young Farmers' Clubs.

While staying at a farm near here she said, "You have more vegetables and fruits in your menus here. You have more pickles and salads. At home our men just seem to want meat and potatoes at every meal."

The supermarkets in Canada also impressed her, and she was amazed at the numerous cake and other ready-mixes she found. "But women on farms in Ontario seem able to get a meal in next to no time," she said.

Miss Marshall's father farms 210 acres near Stranraer, and also runs 420 black-face sheep on 1,600 acres of adjoining moorland. He has a herd of 70 Ayrshire cattle.

Tea was convened by Mrs. W. M. Brenton, assisted by Mrs. R. H. Irwin, Mrs. Warren Smith, Mrs. J. T. Jones, Mrs. G. Cramb, Misses Diane Martin, Pat McMillan, Marilyn Bates.

Tea tickets were arranged by Mrs. K. Cooper.

Also assisting with the garden party were Mrs. W. E. Akenhead, Mrs. P. Fecteau, Mrs. W. Rothery, Mrs. J. Corry and Mrs. C. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Chudleigh have as their guest, Miss Ruby Wilks of Moncton, N.B. Miss Wilks will stay at the Chudleigh home on Joan Crescent.

For Nuptials

Out-of-town guests for the wedding of Miss Juanita Wood and Mr. Terence Moody in St. Barnabas' Anglican Church recently, were Mrs. C. Slye, San Bernardino, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. F. Jenkins, Gold River, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Alexander, Sayward, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. R. Marcotte, Mr. R. Wood Sr., Mr. R. Wood Jr., Mr. J. Wood, Salt Spring Island; Mrs. G. Hayes,

Mr. and Mrs. L. Solomon and Mrs. E. Snowdon, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Moore, Mrs. A. Whims, Mr. and Mrs. H. Whims, Mr. and Mrs. G. Johnstone and Mr. E. Wood, Vancouver.

However, Nazla Dane of Toronto and Una MacLean of Calgary spoke from the convention floor to support Miss Tissot's recommendation.

They urged that the reserve fund for a permanent building be established and be open to donations from club members.

No sums to start the fund were discussed at the convention. Miss Tissot's budget estimate was kept at the national office.

Business and Professional Women Plan Permanent Headquarters

EDMONTON (CP)—With its first national office less than a month old, the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Wednesday took first steps toward preparing for a permanent Ottawa headquarters.

The federation's four-day, 400-delegate convention during its second day, supported finance chairman Norma Tissot's recommendation that estimates for reserve funds include some monies for the federation's own headquarters.

Earlier this month, an Ottawa office with Mrs. Eileen Williamson of Toronto as executive-secretary was opened.

Miss Tissot, from Flin Flon, Man., told delegates from the 7,000-member federation that in the future, it is possible that the federation's national magazine — now publishing six times a year — and other club departments will need to be housed close to the national office.

Praise for the idea but opposition to the timing came from Mrs. Margery Pewtress, Cobourg, Ont.

Mrs. Pewtress said federation surplus funds now are needed for many things, including a field secretary, and once money is put into a reserve fund "it takes an atomic bomb to get it out."

Jane Expecting

LONDON (AP) — Actress Jane Mansfield said today she is going to have a baby.

The curly blonde said the baby is due in December. She and muscle man Mickey Hargitay were married last Jan. 13.

Miss Mansfield has an eight-year-old daughter by a previous marriage.

BIG ESTATES

Sugar estates, and other large holdings in the Dominican Republic, have more than 600 miles of private railway lines.

ANNUAL SHOW PREVIEW

Smiles and Pep Tasty Mixture

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

A great big friendly smile an' prodigious pep!

Those are two ingredients that Jerry Gosley's fifth annual "Smile Show" has in quantity.

Previewed Wednesday night, this centennial edition sponsored by Victoria North Kildonan will be seen every Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Atlas Theatre for the next six weeks.

Admittedly there were ups and downs. Little roughnesses that will iron themselves out in no time are inevitable in almost any first run; but a few lame moments will need something besides repetition to mend their gait.

Blackout skits were weak structurally and tempo-wise and a dialogue in the first half was noticeably undernourished.

First real indication that the show was going to be success came with a funny and well-executed number by the boys, "If I Should Ever Lose My Job."

From then on "Smiles" gained airspeed and only bumped a couple of times. Irene Henderson, a gal who radiates warmth and charm, was at her best in "Wouldn't It Be Lovely," besides re-creating Gracie Fields in a couple of numbers.

Fill Marked For Proposed Gyros' Park

Cheap fill from a projected
Saanich sewage development in the Cadboro Bay area will be used to reclaim swamp land in the Gyro Club of Victoria's Cadboyo Gyro Park.

Tentative plans for the development were made Tuesday
night at a meeting between the Saanich council's parks committee and members of the Gyro
club.

It is understood that no definite decision can be reached
until permission is received from residents affected by the
sewer project to go ahead.

Tentative plans for the 10-acre
public park include a picnic
area, salt-water swimming pool,
a boat launching ramp, and
ample parking space.

Cadets Expected Home 10 Pounds And $100 Richer

Greater Victoria's 60 cadets taking summer training at Vernon can expect to return after their seven-weeks' course wiser, richer and fatter.

They are among 800 cadets
from throughout B.C. and Alberta who started training this week in leadership, as drivers,
infantry signallers, rifle
coaches, bandsmen and master
cadets.

Each cadet successfully completing the course receives a bonus of $100. Well regulated sleeping hours and a balanced diet is reflected each year in weight gained.

cadet.

Education, Fun Too At Summer School
